Mayor Vetoes Village Manager Ordinance

The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

Just as we were feeling sorry for the automobile dealers, we heard the president of one manufacturer give a pep talk.

It seems that starting with 1941 there has been a seller's market during which the public was ready to buy anything that was manufactured.

The business cycle started to change last year. It is now a buyer's market. Automobiles are the last to be hit by that cycle. Some dealers have become scared and everything is happening in the automobile world, except a one cent sale.

The automobile official said the number of people who are in the market for cars is increasing, not diminishing. What is needed is salesmanship of the old order.

We got the general idea and after hearing Stevenson talking Saturday night about the four fears, for which he blamed the Republican administration, we have concluded all of these fear mongers who are worrying about how soon the depression is going to hit us, etc., need a shot of "salesmanship."

We do not blame the stork for the school load we taxpayers are facing. Our PTA members do a bit of salesmanship and up springs a new school house.

We admit it does not take much salesmanship to sell a moderately priced home, but it seems that it will take a lot of salesmanship on the part of someone to get parking space that will be necessary if the Arlington Heights businessmen want to profit by the buying power in Rolling Meadows, Westgate and Arlington Terrace. There will be no shopping problems for those who will patronize the proposed shopping centers in Westgate or on Kensington road.

It will take a new brand of salesmanship to get the Arlington business men to agree on almost anything.

We favor the ordinance management plan because it will cut corners without waiting for engineers, etc. The ordinance plan of village manager could be in operation next month.

Here is an opportunity for the president of the Chamber of Commerce to appoint a committee of business men, who can find a plan to sell it to the other members. We are of the opinion that the village board will meet half way any reasonable plan if there is proof that the business group mean business.

Arlington Heights issued more November building permits than any municipality in the Chicago area. Two persons told us this week that they are even being forced to go to either Mt. Prospect or Palatine to do their mailing because of the tie-up on Campbell street.

There is a lot of salesmanship that is not going to waste. The ministers are doing a pretty good job selling us religion, which in turn is bringing about new churches and parochial schools.

So, folks! The world is not lost, even if the families of our automobile salesmen go hungry because the head of the house does not have sufficient salesmanship to sell the cars that the manufacturers insist upon manufacturing.

Mt. Prospect village board Tuesday night, by a vote of three to two, hired management engineers to make a study on ways to modernize its operation. That action shows the trend of municipal thinking.

In Arlington Heights, there are two schools of thought regarding the method that should be employed to set up a village manager. It is gratifying to know that there is none who claims that such a change would not be beneficial.

Mt. Prospect aldermen are not in agreement on the matter, but that municipality will spend $1,500 to get the opinion of engineers. Arlington Heights spent $5,000 last year for a village plan and has not yet made any use of the study.

Here is a note that is ten days late, but believe it or not, it actually happened Dec. 4. Elmer Crane, 626 N. Belmont, brought to our desk two ripe tomatoes and some fresh lettuce that he had just taken from his garden in Arlington Heights.

We do not know what kind of garden he possesses, but old Sol was kind to Elmer's half acre lot. The vegetables were so good that somebody swipped them from the editor's desk.

The North Western does not believe in taking chances. Just because there was no snow last winter does not mean there will not be eight foot banks this winter. Their forty old refrigerator cars are again in place on that side track north of the race track to keep the snow off their right-of-way and pile it up on the highway.

Our friend, Fred Fulle, of Des Plaines, is being asked to become a candidate for the county board.

As the late Randolph Hearst and probably Col. McCormick well know political honor does not often come to an editor.

We think that Fred can be the exception and we are ready to boost his star any way we can. We believe that any editor who has been as successful as Mr. Fulle in the newspaper line is as good as any politician

Mt. Prospect Will Pay $1500 For Management Study To Improve Village Operation

A survey with a view to improving the operation of Mount Prospect village affairs will be made by Griffinhagen & Associates, management consultant engineers.

The present governmental structure will be studied, and a new plan of organization will be recommended. Among matters to be given special attention will be better coordination and a reasonable balance of work in various departments, elimination of over-lapping by delineation of each department's functions, and the possible need for a chief administrator to relieve members of the board of administrative functions.

In reporting the discussion at a preliminary meeting with a representative of the management firm, Mayor Lams told the board he did not approve of delegating authority, but felt it should remain centered in the village board. However, he said, the growth of the village has reached a point where the expenditure of a sum to set up a program for orderly growth is not only feasible but very desirable.

Lams was called upon to cast the decisive vote, with Ibbotson and Viger voting against the survey.

The cost of $1500 is to be included in next year's budget. The survey is to be completed April 1.

Invite Kiddies To Free Movie At Arlington

All the grade school youngsters in Arlington Heights will be treated to a free movie December 23, at the Arlington Theatre. This annual theatre party is the treat of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil K. Horath of the Horath Shell Service station, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Knapp, owners of the Arlington Theatre.

In order to accommodate all the youngsters there will be two shows. The public school kiddies will attend the morning show, which begins at 10 a. m., with doors opening at 9:30 a. m. The Catholic and Lutheran youngsters, who do not get out of school until noon, December 23, will be guests at the afternoon show, which begins at 2 p. m., with doors opening at 1:30 p. m.

The show will consist of a western feature, cartoons and comedies, and will be approximately two and one-half hours long.

Presbyterian Church To Dedicate New Sanctuary

Special services Sunday morning will mark the dedication of the beautiful new sanctuary of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights.

The dedication marks culmination of a program undertaken by the church congregation May 22, 1949, when approval was given to a $200,000 program involving relocation of the manse, construction of the new sanctuary, and improvement of the present church building.

With the opening of the new sanctuary, the First Presbyterian church will inaugurate a new schedule which calls for two regular church services every Sunday morning. Dedication day, and following Sundays, worship will be held at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ALTHOUGH the new sanctuary will seat more than 500 persons, including more than 125 in the balcony, it is anticipated that the Presbyterian church members and their families will more than fill the new building to capacity for the two dedication services.

It has been announced that plans are being made for a special Fellowship service at a later date, on which occasion the general public will be invited to come and see the new sanctuary.

The Chicago Presbytery of the Presbyterian church will be represented at dedication services this Sunday by Dr. Paul S. Johnson, and the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. C. Victor Brown, whose topic will be "A Promise Fulfilled."

Also featuring the service will be the presentation of the keys by Carl M. Teutsch, architect of the new structure. The presentation will be made by him to Nicholas M. Lattof, chairman of the building committee. They will then be presented in turn to James W. Webster, president of the church board of trustees, to Dr. Johnson, and finally to Rev. Brown.

THE NEW building is dignified by a Georgian Colonial design, and is surmounted by an 80 foot steeple and tower of aluminum and wood. The interior of the nave is of modernized Colonial meeting house style. The chancel is of modern pattern, containing not only the pulpit and lectern, but also providing for a 32-member choir, seated on either side. Dominating the far end of the chancel is a dossal hanging 10 feet wide and 30 feet high. On it are mounted the traditional letters, "I. H. S.," representative of "Jesus, Savior of Man," and a six-foot Celtic Cross, the ancient symbol of British Christianity.

Ushering at the dedication services will be handled by church members who have served on the building committee. This group includes Nicholas Lattof, Clarence I. Davis, Albert Goldthwaite, Howard Lips, R. J. Malcomson, Irving J. Tesch, Mr. Teutsch, Gale Blocki Jr., Fred W. Siegel, Andrew Sim, Laurence K. Smith, A. R. Thiersch, Charles H. Wilson and David A. Zimmerman. Others who served on the building committee included Milo R. Little, Deceased, and Mrs. M. L. Kurtz and Mrs. Harold Peter.

Specially chosen choir music will be presented under the direction of Earle Auge, recently appointed musical director for the church, with Mrs. Auge as organist.

Tibbits Cameron Lumber Co. Sells Arlington Plant To Hill-Behan Lumber Co.

Hill-Behen Lumber Co. 5601 Elston ave., Chicago, has purchased the Arlington Heights yard of Tibbits Cameron Lumber Co. They will take possession January 1.

Tibbits Cameron Lumber Co. has been slowly disposing of their yards. Hines Lumber Co. purchased the Palatine yard several months ago. The original organizers of the firm have died. The majority of the stock of the company is now held by two persons, 78 and 84 years old respectively, and it is because of their desire to liquidate their holdings that the sales are being made.

The Tibbits firm has been operating in this area over forty years, having purchased in the 1910's the Wildhagen yard in Palatine and the George Beggeman yard in Arlington.

Hill-Behan has made no official announcement of their plans in Arlington, except that coal will not be handled, which means that Heller Lumber Co. will be the only remaining coal dealer in that town.

This firm has several yards in both the Chicago and St. Louis areas.

Traffic Fines Net $127 Monday Night

A total of $127 in fines was collected in Arlington Heights police traffic court Monday night. Most of the violations were for speeding and failure to stop for stop signs.

The inhalator squad was called out twice the past week. On December 11 it aided a young boy on Hintz rd. who was suffering a convulsion. He was taken to Highland Park hospital by Black's ambulance. Herman Schaffer, 58 suffered a heart attack on W. Campbell st. Saturday and the inhalator squad answered the call. He died later in the hospital.

An unknown driver tore the Vail st. railroad crossing gate completely off when he apparently got caught between the gates Monday morning.

Firemen extinguished a small fire at the E.W.A. Rowles company early Tuesday morning. No serious damage resulted.

Santa Invites Kiddies To Visit Him At His Village Hall Headquarters

Santa Claus arrived in Arlington Heights Saturday and hundreds of youngsters were on hand to greet him.

Santa has set up headquarters at the village hall and any boy or girl who missed seeing him Saturday can call at his headquarters on the following evenings from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock, December 18, December 22 and December 23. He will also greet youngsters this Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

Santa's here! He arrived in Arlington Heights last Saturday and has set up headquarters at the village hall, where he will greet kiddies Friday evening, Saturday afternoon, and Tuesday and Wednesday evenings next week. —Staff Photo.

Stonegate Wins Suit Against Home Builder

In one of the first successful suits of its kind, Judge George Fisher of the Superior court, December 7, assessed damages of $2,750 against E. L. Trendel for building tri-level homes in the Stonegate subdivision, Arlington Heights. The court also enjoined Trendel from building any other such homes in the subdivision.

The court's action was the result of a suit brought by 39 Stonegate home owners, represented by their neighbors, attorneys Charles Bobinette and G. William Sullivan who served without fee as a contribution to their community. The residents successfully contended that under the deeds to Stonegate lots, only two-story homes could be built in the area.

A SPOKESMAN for the Stonegate group said, "The success of this suit will be beneficial to all subdivisions in Arlington Heights. Builders should now realize that they cannot come into Arlington Heights and put up homes which are not consistent with existing building restrictions."

The $2,750 damage award has been set aside, by the Stonegate Association, in a fund to protect and improve property values in Stonegate.

Five Trustees Claim They Had A Part In Cutting 1953 Budget

Five members of the Arlington Heights village board have asked for the privilege of replying to an article that appeared on this page last week in reference to the reduction in the present budget. Their letter follows:

"Five members of the Arlington Heights village board would like to correct an article which was put in last week's Herald by Trustee Charles Rehfeldt.

"Mr. Rehfeldt said, 'Mayor Goedke and I insisted on a cut in the original budget and eventually succeeded in reducing the budget by $60,000.'

"Actually, what happened was, all trustees submitted estimated budgets for the various departments with the understanding that we would all go over the proposed budget and cut it down to the least possible figure. This cut of $60,000 was accomplished by action of all trustees.

"You may be sure we are all interested in the greatest possible economy because our expenditures affect our taxes, as well as yours."

Barber Shops Announce Hours For Holidays

All Arlington Heights barber shops will be open all day on the Wednesday before Christmas and the Wednesday before New Years. They will be closed on the Christmas and New Year's holidays, as well as on the Saturday following each holiday. Regular hours will be resumed as of January 4.

Arlington on T-V

Arlington Heights will be on TV Tuesday, December 22, between 8 and 8:45 a. m., on Channel 2, WBBM-TV.

The film, made recently in Arlington Heights, will be televised over the Rayner Shine program. It will contain scenes taken at the grade and high schools, village hall and newspaper in Arlington, as well as scenes in the business district.

Kimball Hill Objects To Rezoning

A letter from Kimball Hill and Associates objecting to the proposed rezoning along Wilke rd., was read at the Arlington Heights village board meeting Tuesday night.

TWO SEPARATE petitions are now pending seeking the rezoning of several lots from residential to commercial classification. Hill stated in the letter that he sold homes along Wilke rd. in good faith that the zoning on the east side of the street was residential. He said if the rezoning was permitted it would be contrary to the master plan of Arlington Heights as it would be spot zoning, and would be a definite detriment to property values of home owners in Rolling Meadows.

It further stated that although they, as developers, were not able to comply fully with the village's plan for the development of Rolling Meadows, that they did comply in most instances and should therefore be shown some consideration in this matter. Hill said they would back the home owners along Wilke rd. in every way they could to prevent the property from being rezoned.

The letter was referred to the zoning board of appeals, which will hold a hearing on the matter December 22, at 8 p. m., in the village hall. A copy of the letter will also be sent to the planning commission.

Extra Parking Available For Evening Shoppers During Holiday Season

The A&P and Jewel Food stores in Arlington Heights have agreed to allow Christmas shoppers to use their parking lots during the evening hours, with the exception of Friday night, December 18, when their own stores are open.

Both stores want the public to understand that they will be using the parking lots at their own risk.

Residents are also reminded that additional parking facilities are available on Friday nights and all day Saturday in the railroad park, south of the tracks, between Dunton and Vail aves. Ninety minute parking is allowed in this lot, whereas on-street parking is limited to one hour.

November Building Totals $926,050

November Building in Arlington Heights climbed after a few months of limited activity. Permits of 62 single family homes were issued totaling $873,500.

Other permits issued during the month included 6 private garages, $5,000; 1 gas station, $18,000; play house, $150; 1 store, $18,000; 8 additions and alterations to homes, $11,400.

Total of building permits issued during the month was $926,-

Alderman Bishop Tells Merits Of New Village Plan

Alderman Robert Bishop outlined to the members of Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night the "whys" and "wherefores" of the Village Manager ordinance. Mr. Bishop, who with Aldermen Carlisle and Zimmerman, have been very frank in previous statements released to the press, summed up additional reasons why he has favored the manager plan, saying in part:

"It's no news that Arlington Heights is no longer a small town. With our population soon to exceed 14,000, with over 40 employees, and, an annual budget in excess of $500,000 it's no longer a small operation, either. In fact, these operations have become so complex that the part time administration that this board can give is no longer adequate. This has been evident to every member of this board, and to those in the audience, too, who have had the fortitude to sit to the bitter end of our many midnight meetings in the last 6 months. These meetings have been so wrapped up in attempting to find the solution to details that there has been very little time for anything else.

"I'm not advocating the hiring of a village manager simply to save the time of the board members. That's relatively unimportant for each of us offered our services and were elected to serve and represent the people. We find ourselves, in an unusual position though, for this body is primarily and fundamentally the legislative group of our village with no time for legislation. The pressures of administration have reached the point where there's no time for anything else. And this board should begin devoting the major portion of its time in the immediate future to planning how our town is to develop and to controlling its rapid growth.

"Truthfully, the village manager plan is the most efficient and democratic method of government known for the people will always have a firm grip on their village affairs. Democracy consists of controlling public officials, not in electing all of them. There's nothing undemocratic about appointing the top administrator.

"In our country we rightly fear anything that smacks of dictatorship no matter how efficient it may appear. There is no trace of dictatorship in the manager plan, or on this board either. The plan's greatest strength is derived from its sensitivity and obedience to informed public opinion . . . and, informed public opinion is always in favor of good government. Democracy cannot work unless administrators do the people's work. And, in some cases, an inefficient administration that is elected to office defeats the voters' wishes far more effectively than outright defiance.

"Observe the operation as it now exists . . . we Trustees all sit here elected by the voters as administrators. While I believe we are all capable of exercising good judgment and common sense when it comes to adopting the policies the people who elected us desire, we fail miserably when it comes to administration. And, for two reasons:—first, we are only part-time administrators at the best . . . and, secondly, practically all of us are amateurs on technical matters. It's difficult, in fact, almost impossible, to elect a capable administrator to any position that requires technical knowledge. Doesn't it just make common horse sense to elect the people to office with whom you agree on policy and let them appoint the administrative help needed to carry out this policy. Everybody benefits that way. Can you imagine what school systems could degenerate into if the superintendent of schools was elected in a popularity contest?

"How will the President of the board's position be affected if this ordinance is enacted? The hiring of a village manager will give the President a chance for a better role than he can now fill, for he will be completely freed from technical administrative problems and from the solicitations of favor seekers. Hence, he will be completely free to concentrate on the leadership of the board while it shapes policies.

"The village employees will get a break too, for they will be responsible to one person instead of several. Village managers are not trained to make a record of efficiency by chiseling on jobs and salaries. On the contrary, in most cities adopting the manager plan, the employees gained in pay and security. The manager plan brings no wholesale dismissals, in fact—in most manager cities, there are no dismissals at all during the first year.

"Managers know that the city gains by having career men instead of laborers and that employees are hired according to ability and get promotions and raises on merit. They know, too, that it is good business to eliminate any causes of reasonable dissatisfaction because a disgruntled worker will not give the best service. In fact, public employment, under the manager plan acquires new dignity and stability and no employee who is conscientiously attempting to do a good job should fear it.

"We have heard some comments about the cost of such a plan. It's no secret that we shall have to pay, for we are going to demand an experienced, well trained man. It is quite conceivable that the right man will save his salary and other related expenses by efficiency in operations alone. It would be a mistake, however, to use that and that alone as the yardstick of efficiency. We cannot, in good conscience, instruct this man that we expect him to save 2 or 3 or 4 times his salary each year. He could do it easily, by progressively cutting back on municipal services and achieve the goal we set, but by the same token defeat the basic purpose of the plan. Personally, I think we should instruct this man to give us the most efficient and economical administration possible in keeping with the service demands of the public.

"The term of 'railroading' has been applied to this ordinance. This ordinance was prepared at the request of certain members of this board and legally and properly presented to this board for its first reading on December 1, 1953. No attempt was made to suspend the rules that evening. It has now had its second reading all in strict compliance with the laws. Also, before the December 1st meeting, to keep everyone who was interested informed, the news of the preparation of the ordinance was released to the newspaper. Also, each board member was advised of its preparation. If that is 'railroading' then the laws pertaining to procedure for the adoption of an ordinance had better be changed.

"To achieve really good government in Arlington Heights, we can make the first step tonight and adopt the village manager ordinance. The next step, then, will be getting the right man. That's going to be quite a job, for we already have received many applications. And, the next and perhaps hardest step, is going to be getting this right man off on his right foot. He's going to have a difficult job on his hands, particularly unless all of the members of this board are willing to cooperate with him.

"I, therefore, appeal to each and every member of this board, that if the majority of this board votes in favor of the adoption of this ordinance, that we all join forces and enter into it with a spirit of cooperation to serve the best interests of our town."

Women's Group Secures 1196 Signatures Opposing Plan

Mayor Albert W. Goedke vetoed a vote of 4-1 in favor of adopting the village manager plan for Arlington Heights by ordinance, which was passed by the village board Tuesday night. Trustee Charles Rehfeldt cast the negative vote and Trustee William Luehring was absent.

The trustees cast their votes after a second reading of the ordinance and following discussion, pro and con, by citizens attending the meeting.

Prior to the second reading of the ordinance Mrs. G. E. Goewey, president of Women's Advisory committee to the mayor, submitted a petition signed by 1,196 voters of Arlington Heights, which asked the board to call a special referendum to let the voters decide whether or not the village should have a village manager form of government.

FOLLOWING the reading, Harold Miller, president of the Sherwood Improvement Association, told the board his organization had contacted residents in the area and at least 80 per cent were willing to affix their signature to a petition favoring the adoption of the village manager plan by ordinance. He said that of the other 20 per cent, 10 per cent were not in favor and the other 10 per cent felt they wanted to know more about the village manager form of government. The petition was presented to the board.

Frank Schwanke expressed to the board that he thought the people of Arlington Heights were intelligent enough to vote on the question and he felt that a referendum should be held and that the village manager plan should not be adopted by ordinance.

George Hoban representing the Scarsdale Improvement Ass'n, pointed out if the village manager plan was put to a referendum and passed, it would call for a completely new form of government, and it would take three more years before it could be put into effect. Then, after it was once in, and if it didn't work out, it would take another referendum to change back to the old form of government. Putting the village manager plan in by ordinance, he said, you could get rid of it merely by a vote of the board if it was found it was not working properly. The need for efficiency is now, not three years from now, and that is the purpose of putting it through by ordinance, continued Hoban. He also felt a village manager could save the village money, and if the operation of the village was satisfactory, it could then go before the electors for a change of government.

JACOB KOFFLER pointed out the board had given the one-way street program 60 days trial, and it cost no money, but they want to "railroad" through the village manager form of government, which would cost at least $10,000, without any trial period or consent of the public. He thought putting it through by ordinance was an insult to the intelligence of the voters, who should have an opportunity to choose wisely what is best for the community. He said just because the trustees were elected as representatives, it does not give them the right to think for citizens, but rather to reflect the citizens' thinking. He felt the board had no right to railroad an ordinance so basic to the welfare of the community, without allowing a decent period of time or proper consideration of sentiment, pro and con.

William Kelly, representing the Northwest Betterment association, said his association felt that the resulting efficiency of a village manager would save the village considerable money. The association feels the trustees should remain as guardians of trust and to form the policies of the village, but that an experienced man is needed to solve the problems, which need the aid of a full time man.

Glen Pierre pointed out the majority of the people were stressing the emotional side of the village manager question, rather than the factual. It is known that if the village manager plan is put through by ordinance, that it could be terminated whenever it was felt it was not working. He did not consider it a tremendous undertaking and he felt if the village continued to postpone the hiring of a village manager, it would be courting an error greater than the test itself.

HAROLD KLINGER told the board a poll was conducted at the American Legion meeting, not from a Legion standpoint but from a standpoint of village residents, and approximately 80 per cent of the members attending favored adopting the village manager plan by ordinance. Only one man was against and two were undecided.

Warren White said that maybe people got the wrong idea from the term village manager, that maybe it would be better described as business manager. In business a board of directors sets the policies and they have an active manager to run the business. It should be the same with the board, the trustees to set policies and a business manager to carry out directions and do the leg work. He felt by adopting the plan by ordinance it would give the village a three year head start on improving the operation of the village and permit the board to go to work on an overall policy, as it would take that long to adopt the plan through referendum.

Bert Bredehoft, speaking for the Stonegate association, told the board they took a poll among their members and found that 6 out of 35 members present had no feeling on the matter and the balance favored adopting the plan by ordinance.

JOSEPH HOLMAN, speaking as an individual, said the matter was of public interest and he felt the three weeks allowed them was not enough to weigh the pros and cons of a village manager. He pointed out the trustees who fostered the plan took six months to do so and now they want to limit the public to three weeks discussion on the plan. He feels the citizens should have the equivalent. He said the newly elected trustees stated in their campaign platform they would take the voters into consideration before deciding any major issues.

Trustee Charles Rehfeldt wanted to stress the fact that the 1,196 signatures on the petition filed by the Women's Advisory committee were obtained in just four days time, and at the past village election 2,977 votes had been cast.

Excerpts of the remarks made by Trustee Robert Bishop on the subject will be found in an adjoining column.

Trustee Richard Bronwell thanked the many people who wrote and called him in response to the letter he published in the Fence Post last week. He said as a result, he realized there were sevral points th public did not understand about adopting the village manager plan by ordinance, as compared to its adoption under the referendum system.

HE POINTED out the following facts:

The village manager under the ordinance system could only spend up to $500 without the board's approval. If put in by referendum, he could spend any amount, up to the full amount of the appropriation ordinance without the board's approval.

The ordinance method provides that the chief of police, village treasurer, and fire chief must be hired and fired by board action. If under the referendum system, the village manager could do this without the board's approval.

By ordinance method, the board can repeal the village manager plan at any time if not satisfactory. By referendum, another referendum would have to be held to abolish the village manager system and the form of government would have to continue until the end of the term.

MOUNT PROSPECT

By JIM REDWANZ and KENT PETELLE

Troop 32 Holds Court of Honor

Monday, December 7, troop 32 of Arlington Heights, led by Scoutmaster Jerry Knitter, held a court of honor at the First Presbyterian church.

Five scouts, Ken Moudry, Fred Walters, Joe Podusa, Bill Spomer, and Harry Bierma, received their tenderfoot awards.

New second class scouts in the troop are Lyle Coffman, Leigh Moore, Jon Weisenbach, Ron Conrad, Dwight Pate.

Those becoming first class scouts were Ron Blaschke, Kent Kurtz, and Ray LaCroix.

Burt Bauer and Bob Siegel, well along the eagle trail, received their star scout awards.

New troop junior officers are Mike Moudry, junior assistant scoutmaster, and Burton Bauer, senior patrol leader. Rev. Brown accepted the position of troop chaplain.

Recently four of the members took the Illinois Lincoln trail. They are Mike and George Moudry, Burton Bauer, and Bob Siegel. These four were honored for the accomplishment.

Six chaps received merit badges. Burton Bauer received the swimming merit badge. Lynne Cutler became the proud possessor of the woodturning merit badge. Pioneering, first aid, swimming, and home repairs merit badges went to Scot Moritz. Mike Moudry got hiking and pioneering merit badges. Swimming and first aid merit badges were taken home by Wayne Rydberg. Four merit badges, swimming, hiking, first aid, and scholarship went to Bob Siegel.

Each patrol of the troop presented a skit, typical of the quality present in troop 32.

This unit has a very good program. This carries through to the camping and outdoors section. For instance, the weekend of November 27, 28, 29, was spent at Camp Dan Beard, near Wheeling. Troop 32 will camp at Camp Baden Powell January 2 and 3.

After benediction and closing ceremony, refreshments were served to the parents and friends in the dining room.

This column would like to extend best wishes to Jerry Knitter, and George Moudry and all of the rest of the men who donated their valuable time to the future men of America. We are sure that troop 32 will continue to come through as it has done in the past.

District Roundtable Soon

The Blackhawk District will hold its district roundtable December 22. The site has not yet been announced.

Post 707 Helps The Lions Club

Post 707, in keeping with a good service program, helped the Lions club sell brooms last Saturday, December 12. Details are not known as of this writing, but will be included next week.

New Officers For Post 707

Post 707 recently held its "big four" elections at the home of "Weed" Fag Crittenden. The newly elected officers took over the post immediately. The officers, positions, and persons they are succeeding are as follows:

"Fag" Crittenden replaced Jim Plambeck as senior crew leader. Tom Clarke became the new deputy senior crew leader in place of Dale Nickelson, who replaced Kent Petelle as the scribe. Kent, in the meantime became the quartermaster in place of Crittenden.

New committee chairmen are: "Weed" Crittenden replaced Jim Redwanz as social chairman. Andy Simm replaced Jeff Hanor as service chairman. Mickey Harris is the new outdoor chairman in place of "Weed" Crittenden. Bill Hogate is the indoor chairman replacing Rudy Steingraber.

The new Crew leaders and assistants are: Crew No. 1, Jim Redwanz and Rudy Steingraber; Crew No. 2, John McClaughry and "Menace" Horcher; Crew No. 3, Dan Vittum and Don Plank; Crew No. 4, Jeff Hanor and Bill Hogate.

"Fag" Crittenden, a member of Post 707, has recently accepted the position of Junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 7, Lee Grosby, scoutmaster, announces.

OES Installs New Officers

Arlington Heights chapter 992, Order of the Eastern Star, held their installation of officers November 28 at the Presbyterian church parish hall.

Those officers installed were Magdalena Nuss, worthy matron; Albert L. Roderick, worthy patron; Ruth Louden, associate matron; Ray Louden, associate patron; Florence Luckner, secretary; Inez Sharp, treasurer; Agnes Ford, conductress; Laveta Davis, associate conductress; Minda Newburg, chaplain, Betha Roderick, marshal; Minnie Barnum, organist; Winifred Jones, Adah; Minnie Boroughf, Ruth; Elaine Thompson, Esther; Ethel Webb, Martha; Gladys Leicht, Electa; Marie Bolte, warder; Harold Hastings, sentinel; Burkett Davis, color bearer; Myrtle L. Frey, instructress, grand representative of the OES of South Dakota in Illinois; Eta Reschke, correspondent.

Installing officers were Gertrude Milligan, installing officer; Emily Schumacher, chaplain; Veva Allen, marshal; Dorothy Fairbanks, organist, past matron of Barrington chapter; Reva Peters, soloist, past matron of Paul Revere chapter, Chicago. Frederick and William Bucher, brothers of the new worthy matron, participated in the installation.

Dorothy Fairbanks, organist, and Reva Peters, soloist, furnished entertainment following the program. Ray Klein, nephew of the worthy matron, played an accordion solo.

Miss Celia Hausam presented a jewel from the chapter to Gertrude Schroeder, past worthy matron.

OES, Masonic Party For Children

Arlington Heights chapter 992, Order of the Eastern Star, and Masonic Lodge 1162, AF and AM, will hold a joint Christmas party for the children of the members December 17 at 7:30 p. m. at the Presbyterian parish hall.

Posting The Guard

by SGT. BOB SCHAFFER

Each year, the last day of summer encampment usually finds most every man in a state of financial embarrassment. Due to this fact, card games are at their lowest ebb. This summer I happened upon a flourishing game of poker in the last hours before our departure home. Every man playing was enjoying himself very much but there was no money involved.

In front of each of the players sat a little pile of 33D Division shoulder insignia. Bidding as high as three patches per bet, the Guardsmen had obtained their insignia "chips" by tearing them from their own jackets and from the jackets of unsuspecting bystanders. Having played in good fun, the Guardsmen smiled as they re-sewed the insignia to their jackets that same evening.

THERE IS A STORY relating to the development and design of the "yellow and black" 33D Division insignia. Here is the story as told to me:

"Members of the division were trying to dream up an identifying symbol for organizational baggage for shipment to France in 1918, and the painting detail discovered that it had only black and yellow paint. Then someone remembered that during the Spanish-American War one of the regiments had marked its equipment with yellow crosses to prevent the Moros from taking it — a device which had worked — since yellow was "taboo" to the wild denizens of the Philippines.

Another G.I. painter contributed the further idea of a black circle, the symbol used to mark gas containers and carrying the connotation of "danger" and "beware;" in other words, the Krauts had better stay clear of the 33D. It was natural for the Division to transpose the cross-aid-circle idea to their shoulders when divisional shoulder insignia came into use later during the war.

THE PATCH today remains the same as when first adopted. There were several World War I variations. One type had a yellow border around the circle, while another had a very narrow cross, these variations fell into disuse after the war.

Perhaps you can recall seeing the insignia on the uniform of your local Guardsmen. We all wear them in a proud position on our left shoulder, for our division's history is one of accomplishment and honor. Every Guardsman knows the history of his division, the 33D, and is proud and honored to shoulder the insignia of such a great Guard Division.

THE NORTH DUNTON Street shoppers seem to enjoy the Christmas carols being played from our armory in that block. Ralph Hummel, unit administrator, has been at the turntable each day. It is his hope that the Chrismas Carols may, in some way put a little more spirit into the coming Christmas and that it be the best ever. A note to you north side shoppers: If you will only stop at the armory, Mr. Hummel will be glad to play any request.

DID YOU KNOW THAT — Vermont's celebrated soldier-hero, Ethan Allen, whose "green mountain boys" captured Ticonderoga from the British in 1775, was pre-revolutionary Guardsman having commanded the State militia in 1771.

Lions To Continue Sale Of Brooms This Week

Staid members of the Arlington Heights Lions club took the role of street hawkers last Saturday when they sold brooms on prominent corners of the business district. The sale will be repeated this weekend. The brooms were made by the blind and the sale is one of the projects of the Lions.

The brooms are of all weights and sizes — some in colors for the fancy housewife and others so heavy that they would be efficient weapons for the man in the house — on his head or in his hands at work on the basement or garage floor.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

When a guest is coming, there are a lot of preparations to be made. The house is cleaned, top to bottom. If the guest will be present for a meal, there are all manner of special preparations. If he will be present overnight, the guest room is specially prepared so that he may be comfortable. To unexpected company, we suggest these preparations when we remark, "If we had known you were coming, we'd have baked a cake"—I would have made preparations.

The significance of the Advent season is its air of expectancy. Our Junior department student came home from church school a week or so ago with the question, "Why are there four weeks in Advent? What does Advent mean?"

IN THE SIXTH century, it began to be felt the people of Christ needed some time to look forward to the birthday of the King. The four Sundays before Christmas were set aside and called the time of looking forward.

Some years, it seems that there is so much looking forward and getting ready, that we find we may have lost our way in getting ready for the coming of the Lord Jesus. So much has to be done in general terms to get ready for Christmas.

There are presents for Aunt Martha and Uncle John and Cousin Freddie, and the nephews and the nieces, and our own families. There are fruit cakes and cookies; there are cards to send, decorations to put up — inside and out. So much to be done often leaves us unprepared to stand at the manger bed in recognition of the meaning of Christmas.

Somewhere in the volume of mail coming in and going out, the wrapping papers strewn around, one might suddenly say, in fanciful fashion, "What happened to Christmas?"

"Maybe it's tucked away in that corner, underneath all of that stuff."

Or, "What happened to the spirit of Christmas?"

"GOODNESS, I hope we didn't get it mixed up with all that paper we crammed into the wastebasket. We took that out to the incinerator!"

You have known some persons who have been so excited with the mechanics of getting ready that — when the time came to be ready — they were all in. Take a moment, now and again through this next week to remember (as Bob Cratchit might put it) "the Founder of the Feast," for

"when the time had fully come, God sent forth His Son . . to redeem . . so that we might receive adoption as sons."

'Dreamboat' Doesn't Care, Robs Patrons

A man who was reportedly described by a woman as a "dreamboat" turned out to be one of two robbers who took approximately $306 from customers and the owner of the Town House, Oakton and Orchard, Des Plaines.

The pair entered the bar ordered drinks, and while one of th was in the washroom, the other ordered the bartender Adolph Esser, and his customers to put their hands on the bar. The first man came out of the washroom and stood behind the customers.

Wedgewood Terrace Forms Improvement Ass'n: Elect Officers

A new organization was created last week within the triangle formed by Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, and Prospect Heights. The Wedgewood Terrace Improvement Association was established by the property owners and residents in the area bounded by Elmhurst, Euclid, and Rand roads.

The association was formed to promote the welfare of the neighborhood through active constructive projects and to represent the members in civic affairs. Two projects already under consideration are the erection of street signs and the development of two community parks. A constitution and by-laws were formulated and passed upon at a meeting last Thursday and the association is applying for a charter. Regular meetings are to be held on the first Thursday night of every month.

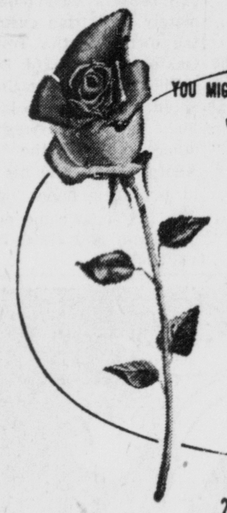

Officers elected for one-year terms are Oscar Miller, president; Roy Thompson, vice-president; Henry Combs, treasurer; and Earnest Lundstrom, secretary Bruce L. Corbett was appointed to handle public relations.

The residents of Wedgewood Terrace have a rather unique position. The area falls within the Arlington Heights school district, the Prospect Heights fire protection district, and the Mt. Prospect Railway Express district. Some of the residents get their mail through Mt. Prospect and others through Prospect Heights.

Lard Makes Comeback

Scientists are making changes in lard to speed it on its way back in the housewife's favor. The American Meat Institute says one change, which makes lard stay fresh longer, is pushing up sales. One maker of popular shortening now makes it better by combining lard and vegetable oils.—Capper's Farmer.

Lions past presidents honored by club Tuesday evening. Reading, left to right, Dr. H. G. Dunn, Quentin K. Ford, Alfred R. Jasper, C. Wm. Lussman, H. J. Thal, John Randag, Carl H. Ewert, Jos. Bryson, Virgil Horath, Ed. Schmidt, Otto Wulbecker, Frank Sesterhenn, and Floyd Burns.

More than 48 children of members were present at a party sponsored by the Arlington Heights Legion auxiliary post. The party was held Sunday at the Legion hall. Those attending were entertained with movies and refreshments. They even enjoyed a visit from Santa Claus who gave the children candy filled stockings. Mrs. Robert Balfour and Mrs. Robert Peterson were in charge of arrangements.

College Graduate of '48 Doing OK for Himself

How is the college graduate of 5 years ago doing today?

To find out, Illinois institute of technology surveyed its class of 1948 and came up with some interesting statistics.

Financially the 1948 graduate is doing very well. In fact, he has bettered himself just about 100% in five years' time. He started work after graduation at an annual salary of $3,180, and today is earning $6,340. Overall, 96% of the 1948 group earn more than $4,500 annually; 76% earn more than $5,500; 46% make more than $6,500; and 17% are in the over-$7,500 bracket.

Choose Tree Carefully For A Safer Xmas

You'll have a safer and more enjoyable Christmas if you choose your Yule tree carefully.

A tree that has been cut too long or stored in a warm place will lose its needles quickly, says University of Illinois extension forester Gordon Cunningham. Even more important, it's a fire hazard that can turn your Christmas into a tragedy.

If possible, cut your own tree or buy it directly from the grower. Then keep it in a cool, shaded place out of the wind until you're ready to decorate it.

IF YOU DECIDE to buy a shipped-in tree, you can tell whether it's fresh by examining the needles. Those on a fresh tree are limber, not brittle. If the needles snap or shatter easily, the tree will not only lose its needles quickly, but will be a fire hazard once it's in a warm place.

Cunningham suggests putting the tree in a spot away from the drying heat of radiators, the fireplace or warm air registers. Be sure the tree holder has a good-sized water-container, and keep it filled. Make a new cut on the bottom of the tree, slicing the trunk at an angle. This will allow it to absorb more water.

Cunningham says fire retardants, such as ammonium sulphate or sodium silicate, may help to make a tree more resistant to fire, but they will not make it fireproof.

Methodist Youth Plan Active Holiday Season

The Christmas program and party for the Sunday school children of the nursery, kindergarten, primary, and junior departments of the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights will be held December 20 at 4:30 p.m.

All of the classes will participate in some way in the program, including singing by the tiniest tots. The primary and junior departments will present a pageant, "Everyone's Star," in which the children will portray how Chirstmas worship is a combination of customs of other lands and how these people showed their gratitude for the great gift of God's love for all the world.

Following the program, which will be held in the sanctuary, the children will go to the church gymnasium where they will be greeted by Santa Claus. And, of course, he will have a gift for each one of them!

All groups of the church have been represented in the preparation of this program. Gifts have been furnished by the Couples club and the Young Adults scheduled a party for the trimming of the tree and made novel, new decorations for the tree and for the gymnasium. This program is for the children of the nursery, kindergarten, primary, and junior departments and their parents.

At the same time the Intermediate Methodist Youth Fellowship group will meet in another part of the church to go caroling after which they will return for their Christmas party and grab bag. The Senior group will meet at the church at 5:30 p. m. to go caroling and then go to the home of Barbara Lohse, 638 N. Belmont, for a pot luck supper.

Evening Guild Holds Yule Party

The December meeting of the Evening Guild of St. John's Episcopal church, Mount Prospect, was held in the undercroft of the church, which was decorated with Christmas greenery.

To further the Yuletide atmosphere, Mrs. Haberkamp, Mount Prospect florist, gave a demonstration of Christmas decorations of various types suitable for the home. Two of her pieces were donated as gifts.

Mrs. R. C. DeZur, president of the guild, welcomed members from several sister guilds of St. John's who were present at this meeting.

Rev. Thomas K. Chaffee Jr., rector of St. John's, announced that a special Christmas service for the children will be held at the church December 24 at 4:30. At this time each child will present a useful gift and a joyous gift to the Christ Child. It is requested that these gifts be wrapped, and marked whether for a boy or girl, and for the age child it is intended. These articles will be distributed to needy children throughout the diocese. Mite boxes will also be presented at this service.

Following the program, refreshments prepared by the board members of the guild were served to the members and guests. (AM

Finds The Needle

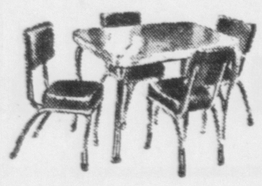

Finding the proverbial needle in a haystack will be easy when the California Experiment Station gets a new invention into the hands of a manufacturer. This gadget was made to take metal out of hay and silage, reports Capper's Farmer. There's no accurate count, but small bits of iron cause the loss of many cattle each year.

Teacher From Germany Visits Arlington High

MANFRED GOESKE

In his recent visit to Arlington Heights high school last week, a visiting teacher from Hanover, Germany, pointed out some major differences in the American and German high school systems.

The teacher, Manfred Goeske, is visiting the United States as part of an educational program for teachers which is designed to acquaint them with new methods of teaching. He will return to Germany in a few months after visiting another high school in the South.

GOESKE POINTED out that some of the things that are considered radical in our schools are taken for granted in Germany. Common learnings, a modern method of teaching English and social studies, is common in German schools. And although Arlington will soon become the first high school in Illinois to participate in a student exchange program, it is not at all uncommon for high school groups in England and Germany to exchange visits.

Goeske mentioned that the alumni play an important and influential role in German schools. The alumni association of each high school publishes a close counterpart of the American yearbook, and maintains a country home for the school. Once each year, the classes visit the home for a few weeks. They continue their school work, but their courses are altered to include nature study and other topics which are more easily taught in such surroundings.

Clubs and activities for the German students are furnished by the community instead of the school which is in contrast to the American system. But although the community furnishes social life, neither it nor the school furnishes the sports program that we are familiar with. "Competitive sports are unknown in German high schools," said Goeske. "The students play just for fun and not for glory."

Senior Ball Set For December 21

Alumni of Arlington Heights high school are invited to attend the annual Senior Ball, December 21. The affair will be held in the girls' gym, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Johnny Marlow's band will furnish the music. The dance is formal for girls, but boys may wear suits. Bids are $2 per couple, and will be sold at the door.

Committee chairmen for the ball are Janet Siegel and Howard Pearson, decorations; Janet Packard, publicity; Sandy Johnson, refreshments; Jeanette Drewes and Sue Sigwart, bids.

About The...
...Barber Shoppers

The "fire fighting contingent" of the Arlington Heights chapter of SPEBSQSA, consisting of John and Martin Raupp and Gus Salmen, were unable to be with the chorus when it sang for the Arlington Area Educators Council at the Lutheran recreation center last Thursday evening. Through their valiant efforts and those of other members of the Long Grove volunteers they were able to save all of the cattle except one, which ran back into the blazing barn on Rte. 83. Only occasions such as this will keep these men from being present for a concert.

Twenty voices of the chapter offered their best to a most appreciative audience composed of teachers from this area.

Jerry Duro sang a verse of "Silent Night" accompanied by the humming of the chords by the chorus—courtesy of Bing Crosby's chorus in "Going My Way."

In the recent weeks the chorus has sung for the PTA of the Wilson school, St. James Holy Name society and also the show which was held November 22. The chapter regrets being unable to fill other requests at this time of the season. It is difficult for 11 members to be available when Christmas shopping is listed as unfinished business.

The Four Hoarsemen entertained the Lions club at Crystal Lake Monday evening. It was a ladies' night banquet. This was a repeat performance and the quartet sang last year on the same occasion.

The chorus will be glade to accept singing engagements after January 1. Call Stan Myers, president.

U.S. domestic supply of oil increased from 1,319,110 thousands of barrels in 1939 to 2,450,252 in 1951.

Bruce Bolas Wins Sectional Contest in News Spelling Bee

Bruce Bolas won the sectional contest in the Daily News spelling bee, which was held December 10 in Arlington Heights. Bruce, an eighth grade student at Arlington Heights Junior high school, won the section 3 contest in the 39th round. This was the longest spelling bee of the season.

He defeated runner-up, Bonnie Mitchell, of the Wheeling grade school, on the word "exhortation." Linda Thomas, of Des Plaines Junior high school, was third in the contest. All three students won a place in the Daily News all-county in February.

Bruce was presented a wrist watch by Lucy E. Driscoll, assistant county superintendent of schools. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bolas, 524 S. Lincoln Lane, Arlington Heights.

Bruce said he learned to spell "just by reading, I guess." He plans to be an electronics expert when he grows up.

Betty Cobb of the Arlington Heights high school served as spelling master. Judges were Alma Leonhard, Leta McMillin and Alfred Snap, all of Arlington Heights high school.

News Of Rolling Meadows

by PAT KATKUS

Hi, this week was pleasantly busy. I called on eight bright-eyed, holiday spirited families. Must be that Christmas is eight days away.

Getting right in the spirit of things are Mr. and Mrs. Wing Groves, who, with the help of 2 year old Mary Irene, are the first residents in Rolling Meadows to put up their Christmas tree. It seems it had to go up early, as any day Mrs. Groves expects an addition to the family. Mr. Grove is trying to organize a representive committee of Rolling Meadows purchasers, asking the head of each family to contact him after 6 p.m. at his home at 2207 Campbell st.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutton and their son, Jim, 19 years old, have only been a home owner a month. Mr. Sutton has worked for Bowman Dairy in Chicago for 42 years and looks forward to another 42. Mrs. Sutton is a registered nurse, but who, since her last job at Edgewater hospital, no longer works.

Mr. and Mrs. George Novak and daughter, Mary Anne, 1 year old, didn't have much to say except that they'll never go back to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Maguire, a good Irish family, have two lovely children, 2 weeks old Timothy and Daniel Patrick 2 years old. Mr. Maguire, an accountant fo the Northwestern railroad, says there is no suburb as nice as Arlington Heights. The Maguires nicknamed their "estate' 'Muddy Meadows; seems all this unseasonable rain has caused quite a controversy as to whether the "Meadows" are rolling or swimming.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick are expecting a playmate for 17 month old Michael. Another boy is Mrs. McCormick's wish, but just so it's healthy. Mr. McCormick is a lawyer, obtaining his degree at the well known John Marshall Law school.

Happy birthday to R. Bennett who celebrated his birthday December 14, with his wife and daughters, Lynn, 9, and Patricia, 2½ When asked how old he was, he calmly told this reporter, "21," while Mrs. Bennett brightly replied, "37." "But, of course, I'm younger," she said. They moved in on a rainy Sunday afternoon, but have no regrets about it.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bishop and son, Robert Jr., are happy to be together again after Mr. Bishop's release from the army after serving 2 years. They moved into their new home on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Birt are originally from Wausau, Wis., but as Mr. Birt is a "first class" mechanic for the navy at Glenview, they decided to make Rolling Meadows their home. Their children Charles 5, and Barbara 3½, like it exceptionally well. For the first four days when they moved in they had no furniture. It seems you can even get used to eating and sleeping on floors if you try.

Interested in a sleigh ride about the 28th of December? If so, please contact me. It will be for young and old (middle aged) alike

Christmas Program Tonight

The children will put on their Christmas program in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight, Thursday. Mothers' club and board of education will provide refreshments.

Library Books

The school was happy to receive six boxes of books from the Illinois State library in Springfield. These may be kept by the school for several months. The books are suitable for all grade levels.

Book Fair Results

Despite bad weather there were quite a few books sold last week. Due to the boiler breakdown the day before, there was no last minute reminder to alert parents.

Boiler Repair

Since the last writing of the news the boiler tubes have been completely replaced, and everything works fine now. There was no explosion as rumor had it.

Christmas Vacation

School will close at 3 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, and will remain closed until 9 a.m. Monday, Jan. 4.

Dental Examinations

Deadline for the return of the bottom section of the dental card is February 1, which should allow ample time for a dentist's inspection if an appointment is made now. Vacation time should supply a good opportunity to schedule such an appointment.

Community News

Sharon Knaack is going to Florida after Christmas.

Gerald Glass and Carole Lasche are on the senior honor roll at Arlington high. Susi Carter and Joanne Pfluger are on the junior honor roll. These four graduated in last year's class.

Patti Folkman was 11 years old December 14.

Eddy Nelson went deer hunting in Wisconsin and shot a buck.

Mrs. Wanda Kane came to visit Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Hightower over the week end. She is from Dearborn, Mich.

Mrs. Joanne Meyer had a baby boy December 4.

Mrs. Gloria Stone had a seven pound baby girl. She was born at Elmhurst hospital and named Rose Ann.

Carol Loeding had a birthday December 8.

VFW Auxiliary Holds Yule Party

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Arlington Heights VFW, post 981, held its Christmas party December 2 at the village hall.

Entertainment was provided in the form of songs, skits, choral singing and a visit from Mrs. Santa Claus. Then "secret pal" gifts were distributed and all discovered the secret pals for the past year.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program. Mrs. Marge Heidemann was general chairman of the party.

Presbyterian Christmas Pageant Sunday

The annual Christmas pageant of the Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights will be presented December 20 at 7 p.m.

The pageant, which employs the familiar Biblical passages and the well known hymns in recalling the Christmas story, is an effort of the combined youth and children's groups of the church.

The pageant is produced by Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson, in association with Mrs. Robert Hutchinson and Mrs. Robert Tindall. The cast includes: Sandy Johnson, Bert Goldthwaite, Janet Siegel, Mary Kingsley, Norma Beisler, Ann Carlisle, Jud Fitz-Patrick, Judy Lips, Elizabeth Prunty, Richard Haworth, Kent Kurtz, Tony Thomas, Mike Tierney, Mike Bonner, Paul Brown and Ray Feind.

The groups singing in conjunction with the pageant are the combined girls' choirs led by Mrs. Raymond Woodruff and a high school chorus directed by Jack McComb.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That we can with confidence trust God to meet our every need, satisfy every longing, and establish complete harmony, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 13. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be GOD THE PRESERVER OF MAN.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (40:11) "Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving-kindness have I drawn thee . . . For the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he" (Jer. 31: 3,11).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering" (p. 387).

Invasion Role

Robert D. Murphy, America's first postwar ambassador to Japan, first gained national prominence as the man who gathered vital information and who laid the political groundwork which led to the successful Allied invasion of North Africa during World War II, the 1953 Yearbook of the American Peoples Encyclopedia reports.

SHOPPING with SHARON

If you haven't ordered your Christmas cards, or if you have run short, you can still have boxed cards imprinted at the Bounty Fair on Northwest hwy. in Palatine. And there's still quite a selection of cards to choose from.

While you're picking up those last minute Christmas cards at the Bounty Fair, you can also browse through the many, many gifts and complete your Christmas shopping, for here you'll find gifts for the whole family.

We thought that this would be the time to tell all you last minute shoppers that you'll find the stock complete at Hagenbring's Toy Circus because the toys at Hagenbring's are being constantly replenished for this is a year 'round toy center.

We've planned to start decorating our apartment Sunday, and I feel that there will be plenty of others doing the same thing. So if you run short of anything or have forgotten anything, Hagenbring's will be open Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. They have a complete selection of gift wrappings, decorations for your home, Christmas tree ornaments and lights..

And the children's department is just filled with clothes for Christmas giving.

Christmas ideas are rampant at Pearces where you'll find gifts for the feminine gender of every age.

In the accessory line there are matching cobra wallets, key cases, cigarette cases and compacts in red, green and tan. Little fur bunny collars are available in white and brown and the velvet collars have irridescent sequin trim.

For the younger set there's the musical bear that plays various tunes and is priced at $5.95. It's called the honey bear, and is honey in color. The plush toys at Pearces, including dogs, lambs and bears, are priced from $1.50.

You'll also find other items, particularly suited for grab bags at Pearces, corner of Bothwell and Chicago aves., Palatine.

Luxuriously designed for Christmas giving are the many gift items now being featured at the Terri Lee Shop, 210 E. Northwest hwy. She might like a pair of TV pajamas fashioned with a quilted jacket and satin trousers and priced at a low $10.98, or she might want a comfy quilted duster. Negligee sets make excellent gifts, for she probably wouldn't buy it herself, but she secretly would love to own another one. Then there are nylon tricot blouses for dress wear. Those trimmed with color-ful designs, such as a bird in a jeweled cage, are priced at $5.98. Costume jewelry, purses and evening bags also make wonderful presents, and all these things are available now at the Terri Lee Shop.

For something a bit different and unusual, there are the Dresden dolls at the Terri Lee Shop and the wrought iron carriage planters in various styles featuring a waterproof tray. For further gift suggestions from this shop, see their display ad appearing in this edition.

The holiday atmosphere certainly prevails at Christen's Food Store, 3 W. Campbell ave., for here not only the windows are decorated, but also the whole store is decorated with holiday treats. They are again featuring their famous fruit cake, a specialty of theirs for more than 12 years. They also have a full line of Scandinavian cheeses and fish including lutfisk. This year they are also featuring lingonberries and all the holiday treats including nuts and their popular fruits.

Those grab bag parties seem to be getting more and more popular this holiday season. I was beginning to run out of ideas, but I found quite a variety of what Mrs. park calls gadgets at Aunt Pansy's, the House with the Red Door, 115 N. Dunton ave. These gadgets, however, are useful little items and are priced from $1 to $1.25. For instance, there's pocket indices, leather bound cases for the pictures of your grandchildren, key finders, individual pocket ash trays, nail clippers, combination bottle openers and pocket knives, tape measureres, pill boxes, stamp boxes, and many more. These also make excellent last minute gifts for teachers and others.

The Village Store, E. Northwest hwy., has actually expanded their inventory of games, crafts and toys. You see the Village Store, your year 'round toy headquarters, has made preparations for and has expanded its stock for the winter season. They have items particularly suited for birthday parties. And for your last minute Christmas shopping, there are still many dolls and toys to choose from . . . the rocking horse imported from England is especially attractive and safe, and then there's the Wonder Horse, children's phonographs, a variety of wall boards and blackboards, and dolly shoppers just like mother uses to do her shopping. You can actually bake in the insulated electric stove specially designed for youngsters.

Another item all children should own is a globe, and all these toys are available at the Village Store, which is open every night and Sundays from 2 to 5:30 p.m. for your shopping convenience.

You now have additional reasons for shopping at the Squire Shop, Northwest Hwy., Palatine, for besides their usual excellent values, they are featuring Santa Claus, who has just arrived and will be at the gaily decorated store daily from 4 to 5:30 p. m. Saturday and December 23 and 24 he will reign at the store from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. On these two days before Christmas, the Squire Shop will feature free candy and balloons for the children and gifts for the adults.

Of course, the Squire Shop has a complete line of clothes and accessories for men. One table at the store is just devoted to gift suggestions, such as, pipe racks, tie bars, jewelry, leather goods, etc.

And if you keep it for a day, why not always?
But you can never keep it alone.

Girls Club Holds Annual Christmas Potluck Dinner

The Girls' club of Arlington Heights high school presented its annual Christmas Potluck dinner Wednesday evening at the high school.

Members of the four classes brought different types of foods: freshmen bringing desserts, sophomores salads, juniors and seniors hot dishes.

Entertainment consisted of a reading by Violet Jeffery, musical selections by the Harmonettes, and a novelty act by Sana Franke and Barbara Day.

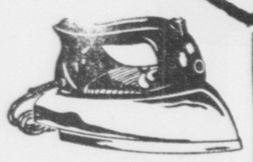

The program committee was headed by Myra Landmeier; the decoration committee by Sally Cleaver.

Bits O' Business

While construction keeps setting new records from year to year, the National Industrial Conference Board calculates that, had the dollars remained the same size, construction per capita in 1953 would have been only 88.5 per cent of the 1927 figure . . . Expansion of plants near United Steel's big Fairless Works in the Delaware Valley has been more in consumer goods than in lines that fabricate steel, says the Philadelphia Federal Reserve Bank . . . The Supreme Court refused to reinstate nine employes who sought to win a strike by ridiculing their em- ployer's product.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George B. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The amount paid by the state of Illinois for public aid during the last two years was almost 70% greater than the cost for the same period ten years ago, despite a drop of 30% in those receiving public assistance during this decade of high-level employment and unprecedented prosperity.

Thirty-five cents out of every dollar paid by the State of Illinois from the general fund in the past two years was for public aid purposes.

The state of Illinois paid out over 275 million dollars for public aid to the indigent during the two year period ending June 30, 1953 — over 112 million dollars more than was paid during the two year period ending June 1, 1943, ten years ago. During this same period the average number of persons receiving public aid dropped from 390,458 to 272,638. This does not include those receiving general assistance from local tax funds where no State aid was involved.

THE TOTAL appropriation for public assistance for the current two year period ending June 30, 1955, amounted to $274,665,000, approximately one million dollars less than the actual expenditures for the past two years. In view of the fact that expenditures for public assistance purposes have increased consistently, biennium after biennium, the Stratton administration is facing a substantial deficiency appropriation for public aid purposes unless this trend can be reversed.

What has happened to costs of public assistance has happened in varying degree to costs of other major areas of state spending. It is apparent the condition of the state's finances, which will be critical when the next general assembly convenes in 1955, is largely a condition that has been inherited by the Stratton administration. Only by the most careful management can Governor Stratton avoid having to recommend higher taxes or drastic curtailment of services to balance the budget in 1955.

Bucs Lost Players In A Fog To Tigers

George Sisler, chief of the Pittsburgh Pirates' scouting staff, lost Southpaw Thomas Kirkpatrick of Beaver Falls, Pa., in the fog to the Detroit Tigers, he admitted to a writer for The Sporting News, when it was revealed that the youngster signed a contract with the Bengals.

"I know quite a bit about this boy and had a date to call on him and talk with him," Sisler said. "But when a heavy fog settled over the area and it appeared risky business to drive over there, I called young Kirkpatrick on the phone and told him I'd see him on Monday. But when I reached his home his sister informed me the boy had signed two days before with Detroit."

"The Pirates had made me no offer, so when Ed Katalinas (Tiger scout) came to the house and made me one, I signed with Detroit," the boy said.

State's Typical Buyer Pays $79 a Month For His Auto

The typical new car buyer in Illinois earns between $450 and $500 a month, buys his car "on time" and pays for it in monthly payments of $79.16, according to a survey by the nation's largest independent sales finance company.

These facts were based on a national study conducted by C.I.T. Financial Corporation, with more than one million retail car buyers on its books.

The study indicated more than 46 per cent of Illinois' new-car buyers had been with their present employers five years or more; almost 23 per cent of them 10 years or more. Of the used-car buyers, more than 37 per cent had been with their present employers five years or more and about 19 per cent 10 years or more.

Illinois' typical new-car buyer, the study disclosed, owes an initial debt of $1944 on his car and pays it off in an average of 24 months. The monthly income of persons who finance new cars during the month studied ranged up to more than $2000.

The typical buyer of a used car earns between $350 and $400 a month, signs a note for $935 and pays it off in less than 18 months with average monthly payments of $52.97. About 76 per cent of the used-car buyers earn $400 a month or less but many are in brackets above $600 a month.

Unemployment Up In Detroit, But Level In Chicago

Labor tightness is disappearing from the Midwest industrial scene despite reports that nationwide employment continues high. The Federal Reserve bank of Chicago observes that midwest localities experiencing a significant pickup in unemployment are chiefly "one-industry towns"—where output of products such as autos and farm implements has been cut back.

For the most part, layoffs to date have been confined to the unskilled or semiskilled factory worker. White-collar workers remain scarce throughout the nation. Many positions for tool and die makers, machinists, sheet metal workers, engineers, and draftsmen are also listed as unfilled.

AMONG MAJOR cities of the nation, Chicago and Detroit represent opposite extremes of job availability. Chicago has the tightest labor market of any large city in the country, whereas Detroit has by far the highest percentage of unemployed.

Detroit's labor picture has been sharply reversed since last spring. There are now about 75,000 jobless in the Detroit area as contrasted with a rock bottom 20,000 last June. Currently, a large number of additional workers are temporarily idle as a result of model change-overs by major auto producers.

Chicago, too, has seen many factory workers laid off. But extensive industrial diversification in the Windy City has enabled a large proportion of these workers to find jobs elsewhere in the area. At present, the bank reports, there is a substantial surplus of jobs in Chicago for reasonably well-qualified applicants.

For the Answer to this Question:

When Jim bought a "gun floater", I thought it was a new gimmick to make a shotgun float if dropped in the lake. He tells me it's insurance on guns. Will about $5 buy insurance to cover my guns against fire, theft, loss or accidental damage?

CARDS AT GLENBARD, HOST TO RIVERSIDE THIS WEEK

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

THIS WEEK in the Northwest conference the first division teams boasting nine victories take on the second division quartet, which has only three wins of which all were taken from each other. On that basis it would look like Grant would whip Palatine, Antioch trounce Bensenville, Wauconda turn back Grayslake, and Ela-Vernon rout Glenbrook. However, an upset could easily occur.

Grant has never won a basketball championship, but right now they are the only undefeated Northwest team and have 3-0 records in both divisions of the loop standings.

When Pedro Cuatrecasas of Bensenville scored 31 points Friday against Palatine, he set a standard for others to shoot at this season. Pedro, who was born in Spain, had a big night with eight from the field and 15 of 19 free throw tries. Palatine has led the league each week in personal fouls and at Bensenville set a high of 32, allowing the Bisons 49 free throws, of which they made 33, for what may be a league record.

NORTHWEST CONFERENCE scoring record for a single game was made by Art Smejkal of Grant against Northbrook two years ago this month with a tally of 42 points. Smejkal played varsity ball as a freshman at South Carolina University last year.

Don Buenzow, Palatine's six foot seven center of two seasons ago, was starting center at Tulsa University last week against the University of Minnesota. Buenzow scored nine points and Tulsa lost, 68-66. Tulsa's coach, Clarence Iba, formerly handled basketball at Arlington Heights high school.

SOME SOLACE can be gained by Arlington fans who've seen their boys lose three straight games after coming from behind to edge Downers Grove in the opener.

The victors in these three contests have counted 17 wins in 18 games thus far this season. LaGrange and Barrington are undefeated, while Leyden has lost only to Thornton.

Now that "the big boys" are behind them, the Cardinals can settle down to playing basketball and winning their share in a league where the battle for second and third place should be a knock-down, drag-out affair.

Hinsdale has lost by three, won by two in a double overtime against Maine. Maine, on the bottom, has lost by four and two. Downers lost by one. Riverside won by four, York by three. Arlington won by one.

Glenbard's hard luck was to meet LaGrange and York for initial contests, but for the next five games could swing two or three victories. That double overtime Hinsdale-Maine affair, by the way, followed a single overtime in the frosh-soph preliminary.

ARLINGTON LIQUOR MART bowling team in Businessmen's Sportsmen's league at Arlington Heights will again be in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament, this time at Bensenville January 10.

The Heights team grossed 2566 for 23rd place at Palatine in '52, totalled 2691 for 21st spot at Heights last time. They'll have to go up another 350 sticks if they want to take top honors this time.

Four of the same five men have been with the team all three years. Individual series the past two years disclose the bowlers are fairly even with four series of 445 to 457 predominating in 1952, and 447 to 459 last January.

Other repeaters include the former winners of the men's division Haseman Truckers of Palatine and Black's Funeral Home of Arlington Heights. The former were favored the first year of the tournament, the latter dark horses who came through when it counted.

NORTHWEST CONFERENCE principals acted last week on the 14 game home and home baseball schedule recommended by coaches. The schedule was approved, but with the provision that any games which cannot be played on the scheduled dates because of bad weather will be cancelled.

The principals thought a lot of postponements sure to occur would conflict with other school activities. In many of the schools, the same boys are in baseball and track as well as other activities.

Both the varsity and frosh-soph track meets will be held at Palatine again this year. Glenbrook, to whom they were awarded by the conference, feels their new track and field will not be in shape for the conference meets this year. After this year there will be three schools with quarter mile tracks capable of sponsoring the league meets as Grant will also have a new layout.

THERE IS TALK in the South Suburban schools, according to a Chicago Heights newspaper columnist, of getting Wheaton into their conference. Wheaton is leaving the Little Seven by request. It seems they are too good in football.

The South Suburban needs more football schools and the suggestion is made Wheaton replace Lockport, a school not playing league football.

Anyway you look at it, there is a need for realignment all over the Chicago suburban area which will become acute in a few years.

Arlington Opens Tourney Play At 1:00 Monday

by BOB PADDOCK

Three to five games in five days—that's the schedule for Arlington Heights basketeers starting Friday night when they journey to Glenbard for round three in the West Suburban race for second place.

The Cardinals come home to meet Riverside-Brookfield Saturday night, after the encounter at Glenbard Friday, then open the Libertyville holiday tournament Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

If Heights can beat Lake Forest Monday afternoon, the Wauconda-Warren winner will be next, Tuesday night at 7:00, with the winner playing in the championship game Wednesday at 8:30.

THE CARDINALS now have LaGrange behind them until January 29. They'll meet Glenbard, Riverside, York, Hinsdale, Maine and Downers before then, with an opportunity to win any of those games.

The West Suburban appears a close race for second place. Fans have already conceded the title to LaGrange, but one to four point margins in four of the other six games to date indicate a hard fought affair.

"THEY DIDN'T STOP fighting," stated Arlington Coach Howard Lester, "in spite of being far behind in three of their first four games. Those three teams have won 17 of 18 games thus far, so we were up against decidedly tough opposition.

"But the way our boys kept their spirits up through all three games, and the way they rallied with 21 points the final quarter against Downers indicates we've got a good team that is certain to win its share of games."

COMPARATIVE SCORES indicate victories for Heights Friday night. LaGrange drubbed the Bards by 55 points in the opener. The Lyons frosh-sophs also beat Glenbard, 65-41. On that basis Arlington should win by 15 and 14 points.

The Cardinals have a good chance Saturday, too. Downers Grove beat Riverside by ten points, which would give the locals an eleven point margin. Coach Klotz' sophs should win by twelve.

BUT SCORERS don't pay off on statistics. It's baskets and free throws the night of the game that count and the weekend card should give local fans a couple of thrillers.

In other West Suburban games Friday Hinsdale is at Downers, LaGrange will appear at Riverside and York will visit Maine, losers of two ball games by a total of six points. Saturday Glenbard will travel to Hinsdale, LaGrange will host Maine and York will entertain Downers Grove.

THEN MONDAY Arlington and Lake Forest will raise the curtain on the Libertyville holiday tournament with Wauconda playing Warren in the other afternoon contest. Monday night McHenry will meet Libertyville and Grant will oppose Glenbrook.

Winners will play Tuesday night with both consolation and championship games carded for Wednesday evening.

COMPLETE PAIRINGS

Monday, December 21

Arlington vs. Lake Forest, 1:00.
Wauconda vs. Warren, 2:30.
McHenry vs. Libertyville, 7:00.
Grant vs. Glenbrook, 8:30.

Tuesday, December 22

Winners games 1 and 2,7:00.
Winners games 3 and 4, 8:30.

Wednesday, December 23

Tuesday losers, 7:00.
Tuesday winners, 8:30.

Reserved Seats For Rest Of Games

Basketball fans can still purchase season reserved seat tickets for the remaining seven home games for $7.00. They can be acquired either at the high school office any time this week, or at the box office Saturday night just before the Riverside game.

Reserved seats are held until fans get there in a center section on the Arlington side, a good opportunity for fans who are unable to get to the gym until after the frosh-soph encounter.

Will Bowl Twice

Joe Bodor, third timer in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament, will appear twice January 10 at Bensenville. He'll bowl first with Jake's Barbers of Our Lady of the Wayside league at 1 p.m., then later with Arlington Liquor Mart team of Buinessmen's Sportsmen's league, the squad that will be in the tournament the third straight time.

Palatine's Northwest conference champs of 1930-1931 will be honored Tuesday night between halves of the DuSable game in the new gym at Palatine. Mike Werner Wins Medal For Gymnasts

Arlington gymnasts had one medal winner in the invitational meet at Navy Pier Saturday when Mike Werner took third in tumbling. Mike also competed in the open class on the trampoline, beating three college performers, a good mark for only a sophomore.

Official scoring was not available the early part of this week, though it was known Heights garnered ten points and fifth place in the high school division. Eight boys competing for the Cardinals included Werner, Bob Hawk, Norb Flowers, Carl Krautwurst, Fritz Snyder, John Koeppen, Dick Kimbrough, Tom Pendelton. Next meet for the boys will be in early January, with eight or ten matches planned.

Competing in the women's novice division for Arlington were junior Rita Misch, who took first on the parallel bar and sophomore Emily Sherrill who took second on the parallel bar. Other sophomores carrying the school colors were Judy Sherrill, Lynn Meisenheimer, Carol Edleblute, Maurine Shumaker. No medals were given in the women's division, however.

City Champs At Palatine To Be A Rough Foe

Next Tuesday night Palatine will bring to their new gym the best cage attraction in Illinois high school basketball in the famed DuSable team of Chicago starring all-stater Paxton Lumkin. The DuSable five which won last year's Illinois Tech holiday tournament and the city championship is intact from a year ago.

It will be the same team which lost to LaGrange, the state champs, by 85-63 in the first round of last year's state tourney at Champaign which will line up to oppose Palatine next Tuesday night.

PAXTON LUMPKIN and his colored teammates are favorites to repeat all their titles of a year ago and make a strong state tournament bid. Lumpkin, probably a future Harlem Globetrotter, is a phenomenal ball handler and dribbler. Last year he scored 29 points as his team lost to La Grange in the state tourney. Lumpkin was named on the Daily News all-state team.

DuSable's probable starting lineup, made up of last year's regulars, includes Robert Jackson, 6-1½ forward; Charley Brown, 6-0 forward; Shellie McMillon, 6-5 center; Curley Johnson 5-11 guard; and Paxton Lumpkin 6-0 guard. All the starters are seniors. Coach Jim Brown, also colored, tutored the team during the freshman and sophomore years and when Coach Scher was shifted to Sullivan high, took over as varsity coach this season.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18 the Pirates are host to West Aurora of the Big Eight conference, a league which plays some of the best basketball in Illinois. Four years ago, West High played at Palatine in the old gym and the Palatine five gave them all they could handle.

Both Aurora West and Palatine are weaker this year. That 1949 West High team had in its lineup Johnnie Beiver, present Northwestern captain, and Bob Carney, sparkplug of the good Bradley university team.

Very little is known of the strength of this year's West Aurora team but it will probably be quite a bit too strong for the inexperienced Palatine squad.

Tough Job For Bisons At Antioch; Pirates At Grant

Palatine and Bensenville's second division ball teams take the road Friday night to meet two of the top teams of the Northwest conference. Both Pirates and Bisons are going to have a tough time assembling respectable won and lost records this season. Both are weak on defense.

Bensenville appears to have the best scoring punch in the trio of Jim Breese, Pedro Cuatrecasas, and Ken Sirotzki.

Both could use top players of the conference, Bert Heuer of the Bisons and "Tinker" Meyer of the Pirates who have thus far been out of action. These boys could be the difference between also far and first division contention.

PALATINE TRAVELS to Grant Friday and it will be a different Grant than usual. The Bulldogs used to be the doormat of the league, but that time is past. Coach Collier has a veteran team at Grant which is the only unbeaten club in the league at this point.

Bein, Guetzloff, Lambert, Raffel, Grenell, and Bettis have been playing most of the basketball for the Fox Lake boys with Bill Grenell, a guard, leading the league in scoring at a 23 point a game average. Grant's sophs are also on top with a 3-0 record.

The Pirates were short their best shooting forward at Bensenville with Pete Abramson sidelined with a badly sprained ankle. Whether he will see action this coming week end is doubtful. Meyer is not expected to get into action for Palatine until mid-January.

COACH NOVATNY'S Bensenville Bisons are among the best scorers in the conference this year. Pedro Cuatrecasas moved into third place in the individual totals as the result of 31 points in the Palatine game and Ken Sirotski, Billy Long and Jim Breese are consistent point getters.

Friday night the Bisons will need all the points they can get as they invade the home court of the 1953 champion Antioch Sequoits.

Coach Dick Scott has a very good team of juniors at Antioch still figured to win first place again in spite of an upset defeat at the hands of Wauconda. Don Lass is the only Antioch senior player.

Teamed with him at forward is the league's second scorer, Mike Haviland, with 64 points in three games. All-conference Ben Floyd is at center with Warren Brownlee and Chuck Davis at the guards. Antioch has better bench strength than last year.

Sectional Wrestling Tourney At Arlington

Arlington Heights will play host to a sectional wrestling tournament.

That was the news released by superintendent LeRoy J. Knoeppel and athletic director Wally Grace Monday with the announcement the tournament was slated for Friday and Saturday, Feb. 19 and 20.

The Heights school has accepted IHSA secretary All Willis' invitation to hold the tournament. Assignments won't be made until the middle of January.

Increase in number of schools participating in the sport suggests the Arlington Heights sectional might be in addition to the Waukegan tournament, where the sectional has been held in the past.

Heights Sports Menu

Friday, December 18, varsity and frosh-soph wrestling, Niles here, 4:00. Varsity and frosh-soph basketball, Glenbard, there, 7:15.

Saturday, December 19, varsity and frosh-soph basketball, Riverside-Brookfield, here, 7:15.

Tempo At Fever Pitch As Deadline Nears For Paddock Bowling Meet

Excitement aplenty prevailed on local bowling alleys where top teams of men's leagues throughout the area served by Paddock Publications fought for berths in the coming Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament.

The big event is scheduled for Sunday, January 10, at Trausch-Linden Recreation, Bensenville, with first place squads of all men's leagues within the Paddock area eligible.

Two of the fiercest battles for tournament berths occurred at Hi-Way Recreation, Palatine, Friday through Monday. Haseman Truckers had a three game margin going into Friday night's play, though meeting second place Dreyer Electric.

IT WAS THEN that Dreyer turned on the steam. They won the first game, 851-839 and took the second, 917-857. With just one game separating the two squads, Hank Dreyer led his five with 255, Maynard Peterson rolled 234, Tinsley carded 220, Art Peterson hit 178, Duke Koplin 175. Carl Huber was tops for Haseman's that game with 202.

This Friday night's play will determine the squad eligible for the Paddock tournament.

Monday night in the Sportsman's league Union Hotel took three games to replace Bel Mar in first place by a half game and win the right to compete in the January tourney. Chuck Kleinofen hit 668 to lead the way for Union.

FRIDAY NIGHT in Arlington Heights was also a big night as Turf Billiards moved into a tie with John's for the lead, both one game ahead of Harry & Sons.

Busse Motors is tied with Busse-Biermann Hardware for the lead in the Mt. Prospect Men's club league with Wille Coal, Kruse's and Illinois Range all within two games and one night to go.

Prospect Heights Pharmacy was just one game ahead of Duro Bros., and two ahead of Serafine Builders and Erickson Boosters in the St. James league at Mt. Prospect. Knaack Motors is up one game over Webber Paint and Behrens Insurance in the Thursday Men's league at Arlington Heights.

ONE SQUAD from each men's league is eligible for the tournament, a handicap affair with six trophies and more than $200 in prize money. Paddock Publications asks first place teams of all leagues to enter, though in case the leader in any league "does not choose to run" another five can enter, depending upon decision of league officers.

Those league officers, by the way, have the final responsibility of selecting their competing team. The newspapers do not wish to be in the middle in event of ties.

Deadline for entries in the men's tournament is Saturday, December 26, along with the $15 for each entry. They must be mailed to Tournament Manager, Paddock Publications office, Arlington Heights, with the earlier entries receiving most desired times.

SQUAD TIMES are important to keglers, and some of the squads are filling fast. As of Tuesday night there were only two vacancies left on the 7:45 shift. There were eight alleys available on the shifts starting at 1:00, 3:15, 5:30, 7:45 and 10:00. Thirty-three teams competed last time. Forty are expected this year.

Entry blanks can be picked up at any of the local alleys, or from the tournament manager at the newspaper office. A display ad elsewhere in this edition gives further details of the tournament.

LaGrange And Leyden Deal Double Defeat To Arlington

Arlington Cardinal basketball players fell before two more big guns on their schedule Friday, and Saturday nights, but are coming up fighting this week-end in games with Glenbard and Riverside, then the Libertyville holiday tournament Monday through Wednesday.

The local fives lost double-headers Friday to LaGrange and Saturday to Leyden. The LaGrange affairs went 79-39 and 60-48. The Leyden tilts, 70-47 and 56-46.

Friday's game against the state champs, who've now won 34 in a row, went as expected with a 14-8 opening quarter stretched to 30-15 at the half. The game was cinched in the third period when LaGrange stretched its lead to 55-26.

TED CAIAZZA was big gun in LaGrange scoring with 30 points, including six baskets the third quarter. Harold Caffey scored 15 for the winners. The regulars stayed in the game until the final period when they were spelled with Kennedy hitting for three buckets.

LaGrange heighth was just too much for the Cardinals as many Heights shots were stopped on the way up, jumps weren't high enough, and the visitors' speed was unbeatable.

SATURDAY NIGHT provided a closer contest for the Arlington five, though one E. Miller sank seven baskets the second quarter to pave the way for the Leyden victory. He totalled 24 points for the evening.

The Cardinals were behind at the half, 24-14, after a 14-10 opening period. A 14-7 scoring margin the third segment cinched things, though the locals kept scrapping all the way.

Wayne Mueller carded eight buckets and eight charities to lead the losers.

THE FROSH-SOPHS, who still haven't gained the record they reached as freshmen last year, didn't have quite enough scoring punch across the board Friday against LaGrange.

The visitors edged ahead by four each of the first and second quarters, then stretched their margin by two more in each of the third and fourth periods.

Eleven free throws by Dennis Striegel did as much as anything toward keeping Arlington in the game. He also hit for four buckets. LaGrange scoring was fairly evenly divided.

LEYDEN and Arlington took turns scoring 15 points in each quarter Saturday night, the hosts turning the trick the first two periods, the young Cardinals doing it the third and fourth.

Leyden's sophs refused to die, however, and scored 18 points that final quarter instead of the eight as in the previous segment.

Leading the winners in the scoring parade was Hennessey with 18 points. Striegel and Malzahn each hit for 22 for Coach Maurice Klotz' Heights sophomores.

IN GREAT LAKES contest, the 'Hawks going down to defeat looked anything but a basketball team as the navy corpsmen thrashed them, 78 to 62. Capitalizing on a fast break and the Blackhawks' poor play, the naval hospital jumped to a 21-15 lead in the first period of play. Paced by Lindon Durham's 9 points, Great Lakes increased their lead to 39-22 at the half.

The 'Hawks snapped out of their bad streak momentarily in the third quarter to cut the sailors' lead to 12 points, 58-46. In the final segment of play, the 'Hawks fell back into the rut again, and Great Lakes virtually walked off with the game, 78-62.

GREAT LAKES was paced by Durham with 29 points, with Peterson and Wiley Mays, former member of Mt. Vernon high school team that won the State basketball crown twice in succession, runners-up with 19 and 18 points respectively.

Blackhawks Lose To Aptakisic And Great Lakes Fives

The Wheeling Blackhawks lost their second and third games of the season when they fell before Aptakisic and Great Lakes naval hospital last week.

Aptakisic broke a two year jinx in downing the 'Hawks 62 to 60. Their last victory over the 'Hawks was on March 24, 1951. Paced by the scoring of Chuck Schramm, former star of Northern Illinois state, and Dee Busch, former Ela-Vernon basketeer, Aptakisic outscored the 'Hawks in the second half 29 to 17, to overcome a 43-33 half time deficit and go on to a 62-60 victory.

Individual leader was Schramm, who tallied ten field goals and six charity throws for 26 points. Wheeling was led by Hans Schmidt and George Newman with 17 points apiece. Another big part in Aptakisic's win was the rebounding of Dan Taggert, Jim Grever, and Schramm as they virtually controlled both the offensive and defensive boards in the entire second half.

Glenbrook High Gym To Be Completed For Grayslake Game Jan. 15

by CAROL LUENSMAN

The Glenbrook High School gymnasium will be completed by January 8, Dr. N. E. Watson announced.

All rooms in the new building will be open and ready for use when the students return to school on January 4, following Christmas vacation.

Four additional days will be needed to finish the gymnasium floor, so that final construction will be completed at the end of the week.

The Spartan basketball team, under the direction of Coach Howard Helfrich, will use the gymnasium for the first home game when they play Grayslake January 15.

Hunters Bag Limit In Geese (So They Say)

LeRoy Pomplun and Donald Wente of Palatine, and Wallace Deeke of Arlington Heights found hunting much to their liking over the week-end when they travelled to Ware, Ill., an had their limit of geese within 45 minutes.

The six geese was a good haul. Pictures taken on the scene were beyond the limit, however, and the proof of the geese was only in the eating.

ANTIOCH repelled the bid of Ela-Vernon to remain on top by whipping the Bears, 72-52, at Antioch. Mike Haviland had a big night with 11 and seven for 29 points to lead the Sequoits to their second victory in three league games. A big second quarter which totaled 27 points for Antioch turned the game into a rout.

Warren Brownlee scored 16 points and Fred Clarke had 11 for the winners. Glen Chaffin's 15 was high for the Ela Bears. Ela's sophs, favorites to win the championship, beat a tough Antioch five 48-42.

Bisons Defeat Palatine, 65-58

The Bensenville Bisons won out over Palatine last Friday night by holding a slight lead for the entire game over a sluggish visiting team.

The Bisons' leading cage man, Ken Sirotski, was fouled out in the first half but teammate Pedro Cuatrecasas played an outstanding game by garnering 31 of the home teams' total 65. Second scorer was Billy Long with 12 points.

Palatine's top cager was Breyer, center, with 17 points. Palatine played a weaker game due to the loss of three regulars who were fouled out.

This Saturday Palatine plays West Aurora on their home floor. Bensenville's next game is this Friday night at Antioch. The Frosh-soph game was won by Palatine 43-30.

Honor Grid Athletes For Glenbrook High

by FRANK WELTER

Glenbrook's first football banquet, sponsored by the Glenbrook Dads club, had Jack Jennings, captain of the Chicago Cardinals, as guest speaker last week.

Juniors Ken Schulteis and Jerl May, were announced as co-captains for next year's football team.

It was also announced Jerl May, Glenbrook tackle, was voted most valuable player of the year as he received a trophy.

After Coach Walter Sherman gave a summary of the varsity season, he handed out the letter awards to the players. Carl Selin, frosh-soph coach, also presented numerals to the players of his squad.

Good Set Shot

Ken Sirotzki has proven a good asset to Coach Frank Navotny's Bensenville Bisons. A junior guard, Ken has had good luck on both set shots and driveins. He ranks seventh in Northwest conference scoring to date with 44 points. Ken is a good floor man, and was outstanding last year with the frosh-sophs.

Bensenville journeys to Antioch Friday night.

Heights Frosh And JVs Lose

Glenbard took two close ones from Arlington Heights yearling basketball teams Tuesday afternoon when the Glen Ellyn frosh won an overtime, 36-34, and the Heights JVs fell, 38-37.

Arlington freshmen started slow with four and five points the first two quarters, but shifted into high with 13 and 12 the second half to tie the score. Free throws by Lewis won the overtime contest for Glenbard.

Halftime tally was 13-9 Glenbard, with the young Redbirds leading into the home stretch, 22-20.

HEIGHTS STARTED well in the JV game, running up a five point margin the first period. Glenbard evened things at 23-all by the half, however. The Bards pushed 16 baskets through the hoop, with Arlington counting 13. Heights led at the free throw circle, 11-6.

Mike Shanklin led the scoring for Coach Howard Lester with 17 points. Whitehead was tops for Glenbard with an even dozen.

Women, Too, To Have Own Tournament

Entering a tournament is a new experience for most women bowlers, but Paddock Publications has provided that opportunity to first place squads of all women's leagues competing within the immediate area served by the newspapers.

Leaders of all loops as of Saturday, December 26, will be eligible for the women's tournament January 17 at Hi-Way Recreation, Palatine.

Last year 16 squads competed at Bowlwood Recreation, Wood Dale with Emerald Shop bowlers of the Women Keglers league, Arlington Heights, taking top honors.

THIS TIME more teams are expected. Though the publishers ask for first place aggregations, women bowlers are reminded it is up to their own league officers to select their loop's entry in the meet. In event a first place team does not choose to compete, another fivesome will be acceptable.

Complete rules are contained in posters and entry blanks left at all alleys. Deadline for entries, including $15 per team, is Saturday, January 2, for the women's division.

Palatine's Northwest Conference Champs Of 1930-31 Had 10-2 Mark

The team of 1930-31 at Palatine high had one of the best won and lost records in the history of the school with 21 victories and four defeats. Their conference record was 10-2 and while they did not meet Barrington and Bensenville in league games, did beat them each twice in non-conference games. This team will be the special guests of Palatine high school at the DuSable games Tuesday evening.

The 1930-31 team had the best defensive record in the history of Palatine basketball. The most points scored against the Pirates was 27 by Arlington and Antioch. The opponents average in 25 games was 15 points a game whil Palatine averaged 24.4. The most one sided game was a 44-6 defeat of Ela. Palatine tied with Arlington Heights and Warren for the championship.

FROM THIS TEAM Harris Helgeson and Harold Meyer went on to college at Knox where Helgeson was a letter winner in basketball and Meyer a varsity hurdler and high jumper in track.

This was the last team Harrison Kincaid coached at Palatine. In the spring of 1931 Kincaid was elected to a position on the faculty of Crane Tech high school in Chicago where he taught science until his death in 1949, except for a period of service in the army where he attained the rank of Major. Kincaid served five years as president of Palatine high school board of education just prior to World War II.

Grant Dumps Racine, 58-56

Grant, undefeated leader of the Northwest conference, traveled to Racine, Wis., Saturday night and won a 58-56 overtime victory from Washington Park high school. Grant won the game by netting 26 free throws.

The Fox Lake boys were in front 51-50, with eight seconds to go in the regulation time, but Bob Karrigan, Racine forward who scored 22 points, dropped a tying free throw. In the overtime, Grant scored seven points to five for Racine with two free throws by Bill Grenell putting Grant in front at the end of the three minute period. Al Guetzloff had a basket and Lambert three charity points in the overtime. Karrigan got all five of Racine's overtime tallies.

Al Guetzloff, Leroy Bettis, and Bill Grenell each had 12 points for Grant.

Racine's sophs won the preliminary 47-39.

ACCURATE SHOOTING and smooth passing Hampshire doubled the count on Grayslake in the opening half 44-21 and went on to beat the Rams 81-51 Saturday at Grayslake. Jay Hook scored 17 for Grayslake in a losing cause. Reid, Melms, and White had 19, 20, and 21 points for Hampshire, a team which has not come close to defeat this season.

It was the third Northwest team to taste defeat at the hands of Hampshire as Palatine and Bensenville were losers earlier in the season. Hampshire won the prelim, 56-22.

THE COMPLETE BUILDING SERVICE

Long Distance Lines will be busy this Christmas!

"We're just three of thousands of telephone operators who'll be on the Long Distance switchboards Christmas Day.

"But even with every switchboard in service, there'll be such a flood of calls we won't be able to take care of them all at once. There are bound to be some delays.

"Of course, we'll do our best to put each call through. We know how much it means to friends and relatives who can't be together during the holidays—and to service men and women who are far from home.

"To avoid the rush—and get faster service on your Long Distance calls—we suggest you make them before Christmas Eve or after Christmas Day.

"And all of us at the telephone company wish you a very Merry Christmas."

High Coal Wages

Average hourly earnings in 1952 of production workers in the bituminous coal mining industry were $2.29 compared with $2.09 for crude petroleum and $1.67 for all manufacturing. The 1953 average hourly earnings of bituminous coal miners are even higher.

One Platoon Ball Creates Fewer Injuries With Major Elevens

The nation's top 10 football teams generally have suffered fewer injuries with the one platoon system than they did in the old free substitution days.

Only Michigan State and Texas are exceptions.

University of Virginia doctor, Charles J. Frankel, blamed the return of the one-platoon system for an "alarming" 30 per cent increase in injuries to players on Virginia's football squad.

He said there has been a similar upswing at colleges he has checked and added that the injuries have been more severe than in the days of unlimited substitutions.

NOTRE DAME, the No. 1 team in the nation, has had fewer injuries due to a 75 per cent reduction of contact work in practice.

Assistant coach Bill Early said, "All things being equal, both teams are tired late in the game and thus they may not hurt each other."

Duke Wyre, trainer of Maryland which is ranked second, said, "Our injuries have not increased and overall they have been very small."

MICHIGAN STATE has had more injuries and Coach Miggie Munn still favors the return to free substitution. Trainer Jack Heppinstall observed that freshmen especially, coming in as two-platoon players, get hurt trying to learn both-way football.

Illinois has had fewer injuries than a year ago. Coach Ray Eliot says, "The danger of the one-platoon is that you must play your talented men 50 or more minutes. When I pulled J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates near the close of the Wisconsin game, they were near complete exhaustion."

WISCONSIN also has had less injuries than last season. Coach Ivy Williamson said, "We were afraid one-platoon football might cause considerable injury, but experience hasn't proved it to be so."

Southern California trainer Kearney Reeb and UCLA trainer Duck Drake both scoffed at Dr. Frankel's report.

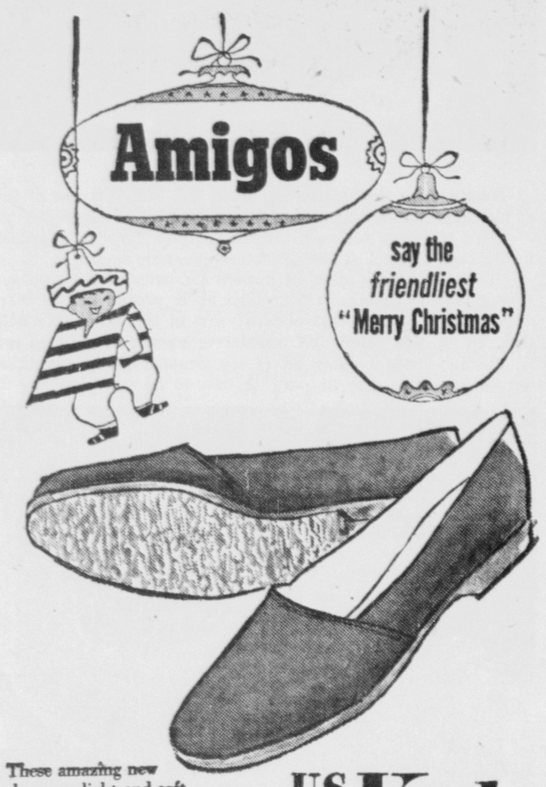

Said Reeb: "Where we had 10 injuries a season under the two-platoon system, we have had just one this year. The actual loss of manpower is far less under the single platoon."

DRAKE SAID UCLA players are "all for the single platoon" and the reason they suffer less injuries is because they are warm all the time instead of going in the game cold."

Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma said, "I can't see that the one platoon system has made any difference in the number of injuries."

Football injuries took a big jump at Texas this season with nine regulars and second-stringers sidelined for several games. During 1952 only one player missed more than one game.

Trotters At Stadium Jan. 4

Basketball's celebrated Harlem Globetrotters will return to Chicago Stadium Monday night, Jan. 4, to headline a huge doubleheader program, their last Windy City performance of the regular 1953-54 season.

The fabulous world-girdlers will meet the Toledo (O.) Mercurys, formerly the Toledo Jeeps of the National basketball league, in the second game. The co-feature, opening the show at 8 p. m., will be an official National basketball association tilt between the Minneapolis Lakers and Rochester Royals.

The Globetrotters' array of outstanding added attractions, discovered on their travels to all parts of the globe, will be an added feature of the gala evening.

In the Mercurys, composed of former college stars from the Ohio sector, the Trotters will be facing the last regularly-established quintet to defeat them. That happened two seasons ago. The Negro magicians did not lose to any "full-time" team last season, although they dropped seven of twenty-one games with the College All-Americans on their transcontinental post-season "World Series of Basketball" last April.

Card Wrestlers Whip Leyden

Arlington wrestlers won a double match Tuesday afternoon in the home gym when Leyden succumbed, 39-10 and 32-25.

Gaining pins for the Cardinals were Carlino, Mulso, Heintz, Burns, Brant and Deschner, the latter his first match after a football injury that kept him out of action three weeks.

Winning decisions for Coach Dick Mudge were Campbell and Turk. Only Leyden pins were in the 120 and 127 pound classes where Richardson and Tessler were victorious.

Arlington 39, Leyden 10
95—Carlino A pinned Smalley L in 1:20.
103—No match.
112—Campbell A beat Kells L, 8-2.
120—Richardson L pinned Stockton A in 3:35.
127—Tessler L pinned Bredfeldt A in in 2:40.
133—Turk A beat Omerod L, 9-0.
138—Mulso A pinned Guenther in 5:15.
145—Heintz A pinned Prehm L in 3:24.
154—Highbarger A beat Nelson L, 2-0.
165—Burns A pinned Castillo L in 2:22.
175—Deschner A pinned Johnson L in 5:51.
Hvy—Brant A pinned Clement L in 2:22.

IN FROSH-SOPH matches Crane, Gregory and Mickey Harris took pins for the Red and White. Three forfeits by Leyden aided the Arlington cause.

Serving as honorary captains Tuesday were Turk for the varsity and Rose for the frosh-sophs.

Arlington appeared sloppy against Leyden and showed the need for plenty of workouts. Looking best for the Heights boys were Ebert, Beier, Rose and Pat and Mickey Harris.

Arlington F-S 32, Leyden 25
95—Crane A pinned Montgomery L in 3:09.
103—Gregory A pinned Overteck L in in 3:52.
112—Pat Harris A tied Tortincaso L.
120—Shanks L beat Beier A, 4-0.
127—Orlando L pinned Wille A in 1:30.
133—Pasko L pinned Ebert A in 3:54.
138—Mickey Harris A pinned Pacino L in 1:17.
145—Rose A won by forfeit.
154—Harrington A won by forfeit.
165—Pratchen A won by forfeit.
175—Vonesh L pinned Wickstrom A in 2:25.
Hvy—Belle Isle L pinned Klehm A in :57.

The first game is an outstanding one in itself as the Lakers and Royals are annually the two hottest title contenders in their league. The game will feature such stars as the Lakers' George Mikan, Clyde Lovellette, Jim Pollard and others against the Royals' Bob Davies, Arnie Risen, et al.

A Navy fast jet-fighter plane, the F9F-6, is one of the many planes necessarily kept ready at all times for the protection of the country at Glenview naval air station.

This is one of the many important jobs open to qualified navy veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict at the Glenview naval air station.

There is a great need at present for petty officers third and second class in both aviation and general service ratings to fill vacancies in station-keeper billets. Veterans may enlist in the active duty reserve for a period of two years in the same rate held at time of their discharge and further, an enlistee cannot be transferred except at his own request.

Station-keepers enjoy all of the benefits given to other components of the Navy. Station-keeper personnel may live off the base or be quartered on the station at Glenview.

Lighted Box Can Display Your Greens

Ever thought of arranging a holiday decoration on a "light-box"? General Electric lighting specialists suggest that although you can make a permanent one like the box shown above lighted with two 15-inch 14-watt fluorescent lights, you can also create a temporary one for the holidays with a string of multiple Christmas lights.

Select a box to fit the top of one of your tables. Cover the box with gold paper and conceal colored Christmas lights in an upright position inside the box. Place the bulbs several inches below the top so that you can fit a diffusing plastic or glass cover on top. Naturally your "lid" should be rigid so that you can place an arrangement of greens on it. Use a low glass container filled with silver Christmas ornaments and sprays of long-lasting greens.

If you use silver ornaments, the light will filter through the glass bowl and the ornaments will pick up colors of the lights.

Mennen Williams of Michigan, presented to annual winner of football game between University of Michigan and Michigan State colleges, goes on exhibition at Michigan State college, East Lansing, Mich., winner of this year's classic between the two colleges and also the Big Ten representative in the Rose Bowl.

Admiring the trophy are two Michigan State Coeds, (left) Rita Felbinger, who graduated from Arlington Heights high school and (right) Beverly Runciman of Redwood, Mich.

One of our most treasured decorations, we didn't buy it, was a gift. That Christmas life was not too cheery—the worst was past, but we were all pretty well spent from the battle then came the friend with the dear adorable snow-white Christmas tree having its very own set of gay lamps and base. Just the thing for a sick room.

We've had ours now some fifteen years. It's a very vital part of our Christmas tradition. It has never had to be in another sick room in our house, but we've given many another like it to other holiday shut-ins.

I guess it was this that led to our giving "Be sure to open before Christmas" presents. For when folks admired some one or these treasures which have become a part of our Christmas tradition we made sure that next year they too had one like it for their very own.

A&P Xmas Bonus

Employees of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company throughout the country will share more than $2,225,000 in pre-holiday compensation this year.

Editor Tells Story of 'Five Weeks Before the Mast'

Note—Orson Wells several years ago startled the nation with that broadcast which told of the arrival of space ships from Mars. This week's installment of the "Traveling Editor" is not an attempt to repeat his performance. It merely gives an insight into the extent of operations of Exercise Mariner. It has not happend; it is possible; it could happen.

The Port of Calais is assumed to be blocked; by a wreck and three smaller French Ports are denied to Blue forces by enemy operation.

Air raids have been made by the enemy on both sides of the English Channel by aircraft by the second and fourth allied tactical air forces and by naval aircraft.

Antwerp and Portsmouth have been frequently attacked. Following eight raids in 24 hours Portsmouth is operating under handicaps. Mines have been discovered and shipping has had to be rerouted.

At sea convoys have been attacked by orange aircraft, carrying bombs, rockets and torpedoes and by submarines laying in wait in the shipping channels.

Many attacking Orange aircraft have been intercepted by aircraft of the RAF Fighter Command.

A convoy reached the Norwegian coast after three attacks by Orange submarines and two Orange aircraft attacks.

Two Orange destroyers were located by aircraft, south of Shetland Islands but due to shortage of petrol, the shadowing aircraft had to break off contact.

Search aircraft from the Illustrious located two Orange destroyers in the North Sea Sunday morning, destroying them.

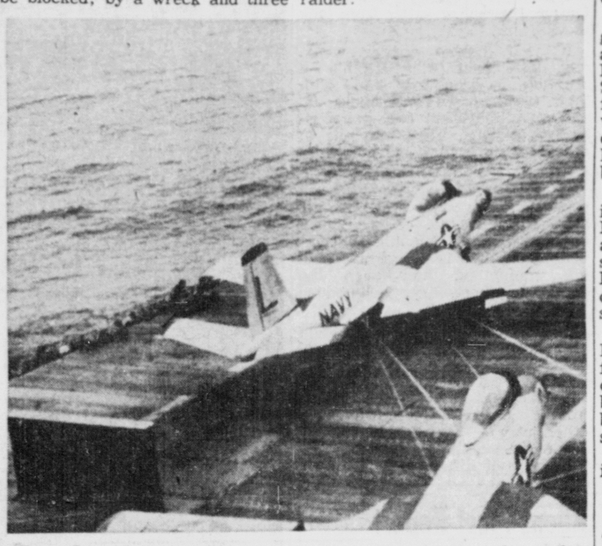

Elements of striking fleet carries out tactical exercises southwest of Iceland despite winds of gale force. Orange submarine activity continues. One Orange submarine was sunk by elements of the striking fleet 15 miles southwest of Iceland.

While the Orange raider, played by the British cruiser Swiftsure, was officially determined intercepted and sunk by the British battleship Vanguard, it has now been determined that the Vanguard had been attacked by a formation of friendly aircraft, from the U. S. carrier Bennington, which mistook it for the Swiftsure, just before the Vanguard sank the raider.

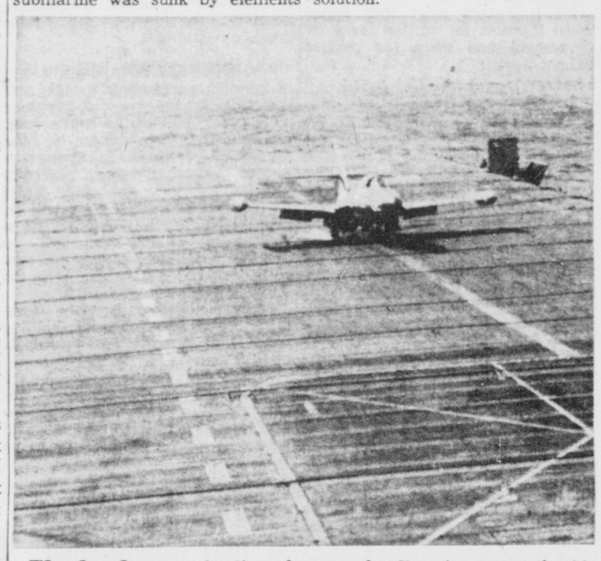

This mixup was strictly one of those things that happens in international cooperation, Land Base Blue (our side) air force planes first sighted the raider and then lost it for a considerable time due to its skillful use of fog and weather for protection. It was rediscovered by an airplane from the British carrier Eagle. Weather was bad with visibility of one half mile. The British early warning planes use very high frequency radio (VHF) while the American planes use ultra high frequency radio (UHF). They cannot communicate with each other. The British plane which had rediscovered the raider had to return to its ship, or radio to it, the position of the raider and this had to be transmitted to the American carrier for transmission to the American aircraft. American planes had been told that no friendly ships were in the vicinity. A flight of aircraft from the American carriers went out and bombed the presumed raider, only to find later that it was the friendly Battleship Vanguard that had been bombed, instead of the raider. The silhouette of the two ships was similar.

This would have been a great disaster in war and points up the importance of such exercises as Mariner. It will take two years to provide all NATO sea forces with a common radio system. The problem has been well-known for a long time, but this demonstration of its importance may hasten a solution.

Banshee jet ready for launching by the catapult method. It was wheeled in place by its two idling engines. Before the pilot gives the plane the "gun," the shield shown at the rear of the plane arose to protect the deck and men from the intense heat and fumes.

For every foot that the ram shoots forward, the catapult moves 12 feet which gives the plane a speed of over 100 miles an hour as it leaves the carrier.

The hook on a landing plane can hardly miss one of the 14 steel cables that extend across the landing area of a carrier. A plane landing at a speed of nearly 100 miles an hour is brought to stop within fifty feet after a cable is hooked. The section of the deck, marked with a cross, is one of three elevators which is used to lower a disabled plane in order to clear the deck for the next plane.

During both of the above operations, a helicopter is circling the ship ready to rescue any pilot who is thrown into the water or is compelled to ditch his plane. Two pilots were so rescued during Exercise Mariner.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Good Welcome

Instead of a complaint against one of the taxing bodies, may I compliment the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce and Mrs. Conger on the wonderful introduction given to newcomers.

I have never experienced a greater feeling of friendliness in a new community, than the one I received from Mrs. Conger. Such warmth of greeting and information in a half hour talk with her makes me wonder why every retail shop in Arlington Heights isn't listed in the coupon book she left with me.

She completely sold me on the idea of shopping in Arlington Heights instead of Chicago, Evanston and Oak Park. Surely I shall continue to shop here as long as I continue to receive the cordial welcome given me in the stores, listed in the coupon book.

I have had the temerity to call Mrs. Conger at her home for information I needed, and it was cheerfully given. Such service by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, deserves the support of every store in the city. They shall be amply rewarded in increased sales.

It's just about this "time o'year" that all Christendom starts contemplating the celebration of the most important of birthdays.

Remember when a Christmas tree was a mighty pretty thing, all alight with taper candles—and a big fire hazard. Fun with fear.

Lots of folks living today can't remember those days. They just take what Tommy Edison did for granted. But I've always thought he had Christmas tree trimmers in mind too when he lighted that first hairpin in a bottle. Happiness with safety.

Only took 1,878 years for this contribution to be made to the celebration. Next year the incandescent lamp will be seventy-five years old. Just a newcomer who's done a lot to add enjoyment to the holiday season.

Times sure have changed, no more of this attaching the tree to a couple of crossed boards and hoping it will stay upright. Now you can have a nice sturdy tree stand, which will take any size tree, has a water well, and comes all wired with a cord for easy connection to the nearest outlet.

Even has lights right in the standard; (you can have them visible or concealed), that will show up your labor of creating a Christmas village under the tree. The thing also has an add-on plug for connecting the tree lights.

Trimming a tree can be lots of fun for kids or adults; if you plan it right.

Get your tree set where you want it and then check your lamp strings of lights. Look them over and light them up and make sure you've got plenty of the colors you want. This is lots easier off the tree than on.

Then with your better half to man the step ladder, for tree trimming is one business where it's best to start at the top, and two; one up and one down, makes carrying the strings round easier.

Don't be afraid to mix your strings of bulbs, series and multiple, old and new, as long as they're in good condition. Variety in sizes and shapes will add to the gaiety.

Now to get back to the tree trimming—when you've got the lamps arranged and set just where you want them, start trimming down from the top to within an easy reach from the floor.

Each year, when we were children, we had the privilege of contributing some new decoration to the tree or to the house. That's how we came by our first big lighted star for atop the tree.

Unpaved Street

Every morning as I drive to the Arlington railroad station down Northwest Highway, I take pride in how nice our village looks. Princeton av., Yale, Patton, etc., are all nicely paved with pretty little houses that resemble a Christmas card scene.

Suddenly I come upon an eyesore, Salem Avenue!

I never could quite figure out why Salem looks the way it does until out of curiosity one morning I turned in, drove around the cul-de-sac, and back out.

Now I know! The street is unpaved and bumpy, also unlighted. When it rains big mud holes full of water appear in the street and stay there for days and days.

The houses on Salem are as nice as the houses on other streets and the people who live there are apparently doing their best to improve the appearance of their homes, but a home can't possibly look nice with a big hole full of muddy water in front of it for days at a time.

It seems to me, that what with the new Ridge School setting right at the edge of Salem av., and the beautiful high school facing it, something could be done by the village fathers for improving the appearance of this particular street.

Paving, lighting and a better upkeep of the high school practice field would probably help make the people who live on Salem feel as proud of their street as those who live on the streets just a block or two away.

Girl Is Safe

We wish to thank the paper and friends who aided us in every way possible to help us find our daughter, missing several weeks from our home in Arlington Heights.

She wrote to us from Rockford where she was staying with some Sisters at St. Anthony hospital.

We have agreed to let her enroll in the Muldoon high school in Rockford. She will also work as a nurses' aid at St. Anthony's, and will receive room and board for her services.

Thankful Parents
Arlington Heights.

Keep The Trees

In a recent issue of the Mount Prospect Herald an article appeared regarding the request of the chamber of commerce to remove trees from the parkways in the Mount Prospect business district; specifically along E. Prospect between Main and Emerson.

Renowned in this part of the state for its beauty, the town of Mount Prospect is drawing as much or more residential building as any suburban area, and mainly because of its beauty as a country town.

Marshall Field's is spending a large sum of money to beautify its frontage by planting trees along State street. Why then should we wish to remove those which early residents were farsighted enough to plant in Mount Prospect. The tree plan in this town was carefully thought out and laboriously executed.

Public spirited builders have cooperated with the village in widening the streets in the business areas and in providing parking spaces. This plan is a feasible one for any builder and one which not only spares the town's beauty but adds to its beauty and convenience.

Let us keep Mount Prospect a village "where town and country meet." A broad span of concrete is slippery in winter and hot in summer. Let's keep our trees!

Careless Hunters

We've noticed letters and comments about hunting in this area in your paper and wish to add ours.

During open season this year one of the members of our household, working in the back yard, heard the zing shot within 50 feet of our house. I know no one was hurt, it's only when you don't hear it that someone is shot.

The next day, Sunday, five persons standing on our front porch heard another shot. Hunters had stepped on the road to pick up a bird.

Does that look as though hunters are careful about directing the shot? We could see the hunters, why couldn't they see us?

We own and live on Bradwell and Haman, the brown house on the corner. If anyone is circulating a petition they want signed we'll be glad to oblige.

Palatine Friend

On December 3 we received a check signed "A Friend, Palatine, Illinois." It was sent with a few words, asking us to use it toward making our Christmas more cheerful and with a prayer of hope for our daughter Audrey's recovery from her accident of last July 12.

It is impossible to know from whom the gift came, or to thank them personally for their fine Christmas spirit and for considering us one of their friends. The only way we know to give our hearty thanks is through the Fence Post. God has been gracious to our family in giving us such sincere friends. We had never realized that we had so many friends until this catastrophe hit us. May God bless them all.

To the 'friend' who sent us this check we give our thanks from the bottom of our hearts. May God bless you with the merriest Christmas the happiest of new years.

Boling Scores

Is it Nielhauff, or is it Neilhorst? Is it Feller, or is it Fittes? Those boling scores drivin' me krazy.

De boss in de frunt offis sez set 'em. I asks who reds 'em. De boss se zsumting about 1100 huntert bolers, he boles, I'm rung in, set 'em.

So I set 'em, but I still wunder. Duz anybody red 'em? Sum of de writing is so faint an' scribbly I almos' go krazy redin' 'em. How about it, bolers? Do ya red 'em?

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

Our Christmas cards arrived several days ago, and are practically all addressed and ready to go. We wanted a religious card and what we chose I think is rather pretty—an all blue and white card, featuring two angels looking down on the Christ Child. It is a sweet card but really not two distinctive. I guess I'm not enthusiastic because I enjoy so much sending and receiving self-made cards; to me they are much more personal and show more thought on the part of the sender. Oh well, maybe next year Christmas won't sneak up on me so fast, and anyway, having only to address envelopes this year may give me time to try making some of the darling Christmas tree ornaments I have seen displayed.

I have promised Megan we would make some of the ornaments that we saw completed in the ten cent store. I'm sure you've seen them too—those white plastic balls (that look like snowballs) covered with multi-colored sequins. They would be easy for Megan to make, since the sequins are simply glued to the balls. I also have some old costume jewelry that we can use to add extra glitter.

ONE OF OUR LOCAL CHURCHES gave a bazaar recently and had for sale some of the most unusual and lovely ornaments, Christmas wreaths and gifts I have ever seen. Among the ornaments were white yarn dolls—some fashioned to look like ballerinas and others like snowmen. That very fine, packaged "glitter" was sprinkled liberally over the "clothing" of the dolls, and sequins provided "eyes," "noses" and "mouths."

Also, clever things were done with felt and pipe cleaners. A piece of light blue felt was cut in the shape of a star, decorated with silvery sequins and pearls, and hung from a satin ribbon. There were pipe cleaner angels wearing silver paper skirts and wings. The most unique Christmas stockings I saw were "His" and "Hers." The "Hers" was of pink felt, decorated with sequins and white net ruffles, and possessed a most shapely outline, while "His" was light blue with a sequin-darned toe and heel.

INCLUDED IN THE WREATH display was one I would love to have had. It was a very interesting one made with dried seed pods, from various plants, tucked in among the branches of evergreen. The pods had been lightly lacquered and appeared to be beautifully preserved. A copper colored bow topped the wreath. Another was decorated with red lacquered pods and a red bow.

Mobiles certainly seem to be the thing this year. I saw them supporting shiny ornament balls, paper stars and angels and felt figures. I think this product of contemporary thought could be a very effective decoration, in the right room (not one featuring antique furniture, however).

MATCH BOXES covered with jeweled satin or velvet ribbon were also for sale. These are easy to make and are a charming touch to a holiday party.

I still would like to make for someone one of those lavish little late-hour aprons (I use the word "aprons" loosely!) The one I saw was made of bright red net, with a shiny sequin Christmas tree appliqued on one side of the skirt. A red satin ribbon provided the band and bow in back.

Well, Peg, these are some of the unusual holiday creations I've seen—maybe it's not too late for you to try making one or two of them.

My love,
Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

We suppose that we are not the only woman in the world who starts to get wild eyed at this time of the year. It probably only seems that way.

There must be other wives and mothers who make out lists frantically only to leave them at home when they go shopping. There just have to be others of the fair sex who decide that they have lost the true spirit of the divine holiday in the welter of gifts to buy, trees and mantles to trim, cards to address and mail, and the last minute out of town packages that will never arrive in time but have to be mailed anyway.

In among all this gay and diverting hurly burly, crop up little children's programs which parents must attend to listen to little dearies open their mouths for "Silent Night" to come pouring forth.

We are hereby forced to admit that we always go to said programs under silent protest. Any halo that might be around our heads is plainly labeled, "She seen her duty and she done it." Then comes the transformation. As the program progresses and we relax, the true beauty of the season is brought home to us and no concert caliber choir sounds as heavenly as the childish voices that always squeak on the high notes. They all look like the littlest angel, tears come to our eyes (we cry easily at this time of year) and we feel terrible about our nasty inner thoughts that we had harbored. This is truly the meaning of Christmas.

We rushed into the high school auditorium last Sunday a little late, a little flurried, and panting. We had been tarked into attending the music department Christmas Festival. We were completely enchanted with the whole production which was so much more elaborate than we had believed possible. The bands, orchestras, and choruses were very professional and very good. The performances of "The Littlest Angel" and "'Twas The Night Before Christmas" were especially entertaining and moving too.

As we said before, we always start prepared to endure. We always come home with stars in our eyes and vows in our heart not to be too busy to enjoy the beautiful meaning of this time.

So much for our resolutions. And, now, back to the gifts, trimming, addressing, and the mailing not to mention our usual foul humor. We would feel worse if we didn't know that next week we will adore everyone and everything again. We just love the day before Christmas because it's all done and it all looks so pretty and the children are unbelievably good. And so are we.

'Teen agers in big gang fight
Juvenile delinquency on the upswing
Arrest dope crazed youths in mad party.

Day after day, 'teen agers make the headlines. We ask, "What is the trouble?" Everyone is talking about it; but not nearly enough is being done.

High on the list of probable causes for 'teen age errancies is the lack of religious training. Where there is no God, there is little moral restraint. Law and punishment is a deterrent, but not nearly so great a one as a strong religious faith, believed in and practiced by parents at home, taught in school, and learned in church.

THE CONDITIONS of the times add to 'teen age violations. With millions of mothers working and millions of children of all ages free from parental supervision several hours each day, kids can and do get into trouble. If mother were home expecting them, advising and looking after them, there would not be nearly the trouble with youngsters that there is. Question: with the cost of living so high that families cannot maintain a decent living standard unless mother works too, what can be done? The answer to that will be a great step toward a solution to the problem.

'Teen agers or children of younger ages are often not wanted around home. They aren't wanted in many business places either, when in groups and not under supervision. Because they are lively and adventurous and mischievous, you can't blame the business man. But 'teen agers are beginning to believe that the only place they are wanted is in the armed forces.

SOMETHING could be done in the way of more well operated and supervised youth centers. More youth athletic events, business ventures such as Junior Achievement, are partial answers to the dilemma.

The answer to the problem of juvenile delinquency lies with parents, educators and churches. We cannot escape either the blame or the consequences if we fail to give our youth the love, spiritual and social guidance they need.

Phone Wages Up

Persons employed in the various branches of the telephone industry had average weekly earnings of $63.68 in 1952 compared with $60.84 in 1951, the Yearbook for 1953 of the American Peoples Encyclopedia reports. The industry was employing 682,500 persons at the end of the year, 34,700 more than at the end of 1951. Rate increases granted and put into effect last year raised revenues by 170 million dollars.

Incorporation Taxes Up

Collections of corporation fees and franchise taxes during November brought the total for the 11-month period $45,284.14 above the amount collected at the same time last year, secretary of state Charles F. Carpentier announced.

Collections for November were $111,762.65, making the total for the year so far $4,301,624.39, Secretary Carpentier said. He predicted that the 12-month total also will be slightly above the 1952 mark.

New incorporations continued to show a gain over last year, the 6,851 organizations formed so far this year being 903 greater than those established last year.

Now Is Time To Buy Your 1954 Fertilizers

Buy your 1954 fertilizers this fall. Doing so will mean you'll get full advantage of the benefits obtained by buying and spreading fertilizers during the off-season.

A. L. Lang, agronomist at the University of Illinois, says the returns from succeeding crops will be the same no matter when you apply the fertilizers. Forty years of research at the University have proved this to be true.

BIG ADVANTAGE in buying fertilizers now is the bargaining power it gives you with the dealers and spreaders. Lang points out that many dealers may be willing to sell at a cheaper rate in order to cut down on the heavy demand in the spring and also to give them more storage room.

Spreaders are relatively inactive now during the off-season and will usually be more willing to sell at a cheaper rate.

THERE'S A GREATER range of choice in plant food materials now, and you'll be able to get just what you want. Mixtures and single materials are more likely to be available. Such plant foods as rock phosphate, superphosphate, potash and nitrogen are usually cheaper alone than in mixed goods or blends.

Another advantage you'll get now is the chance to buy bulk materials rather than bagged goods. They are cheaper in bulk because you don't have to pay for the bags and labor.

And you can put the cost of the fertilizer on either your 1953 or 1954 tax bill by paying for it now or waiting and paying for it after the first of the year.

Guard Against Calf Scours On The Farm

Watch your newborn calves for signs of diarrhea, veterinarians at the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine warn.

Young calves one to three days old are most likely to get an infection, overeat or suffer from lack of vitamins.

If your calves appear weak, dull, lose their appetites have difficulty in breathing, stand with their heads down and backs up and have diarrhea, call a veterinarian at once. They may die in a short time if they are not treated.

If you use good management practices, you will probably not have this trouble. Keep young calves from getting chilled by preventing drafts. Disinfect all feeding equipment, and keep the calves in clean, dry, well-bedded pens.

When calves are born, disinfect their navels with tincture of iodine. Let them nurse for two or four days; then gradually increase their feedings. If then any of them appear sick, keep them away from other calves. Keep calves of the same age together, and avoid mixing those of different ages.

Aliens Must Report Addresses In January

Marcus T. Neelly, district director of immigration and naturalization at Chicago has called to the attention of all aliens the requirement of the immigration and nationality act that every alien in the United States report his address to the government during the month of January. The repoort must be made on Form I-53, which may be obtained from any United States post office or from any immigration office. The requirement applies to all aliens in the United States January 1 and to aliens who reside in the United States and may be temporarily absent during January.

Wanted-Tall Corn Pickers

It would take a star basketball center plus a step ladder to pick the ear of corn on the stalk shown on left. Charles Gunn, noted corn breeder of the DeKalb Agricultural Association, DeKalb, Illinois, stands 6 feet in his stocking feet and the big stalk tops him by almost 12 feet. It's Mexican corn grown by Mr. Gunn, and in its normal climate, reaches a height of about 14 or 15 feet. The middle stalk shown is of average height in this vicinity. The short stalk on the right is one of Mr. Gunn's inbreds, used in breeding hybrid corn.

Chicken Supply Good, Prospects Even Better

Broiler producers have had a good year in 1953. Feed costs have been down eight to ten per cent from those of last year. The number of broilers produced and sold reached a new all-time high. And prices received by farmers have been among the best since 1948.

The outlook for 1954 is fairly good too. Feed supplies are now one or two per cent larger than they were a year ago, and costs should go no higher. Although the output of broilers has increased each year since 1948, the amount, or rate, of increase is not so great as it was a few years ago. The supply will probably increase again in 1954, but the rate seems likely to be moderate.

THIS YEAR (1953) the supply of chicken meat will total about 23 pounds per person, the same as in 1952. For the first time, broilers have made up more than half of the total supply of chicken. Broiler production is running about five per cent greater than last year. In 1954, USDA forecasters expect output to increase another five or eight per cent. This increase can be absorbed without much decline in prices.

Several developments are making for greater stability in production and prices: The supply of hatchery eggs is more dependable than it formerly was. Output from the bigger industry is likely to be more uniform. Full-time producers will not jump in and out so much as sideline operators have done. Hatcheries and feed dealers are financing many operators, and they can get good price insurance by having one or more lots for sale each week.

SOME PROCESSORS now support the market in periods of large supplies by buying excess supplies and freezing them for later sale. Facilities and practices in retailing broilers are greatly improved over those of a few years ago. Finally, consumers have become accustomed to buying and using broilers more frequently.

Consumer demand for chicken seems likely to hold up well through 1954. Supplies of competing meats will be no larger, and possibly a little smaller, than they have been in 1953. Chicken is pricer favorably compared with pork, beef, and other meats.

Consumers seem likely to have about as much money to spend for poultry as they have had in 1953. Unemployment may increase to more normal levels, but this will be offset, in part at least, by higher wage rates for some workers and by reductions in federal taxes.

List Speakers Farm-Home Week-Urbana

General session speakers were announced for the Farm and Home week, February 1 through 4, at the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois in Urbana.

Governor William G. Stratton will speak at the first general session on Monday afternoon. He is the 32nd governor of Illinois and is the youngest man to hold this post in 70 years.

He was elected to the United States congress at the age of 26, being the youngest congressman ever elected from Illinois and the youngest member of the 77th congress.

IN 1947, he was chosen by the National Advertising Club of New York City as one of the top ten outstanding young men in the United States and in 1948 he was chosen the outstanding young Republican in the country.

The Tuesday speaker will be George McLean of Tupelo, Miss. His subject will be "Building Leadership for Better Communities."

McLean is publisher and executive editor of the Tupelo Daily Journal. He is a leader in the Tupelo community development council and former professor of sociology at Memphis state college, Memphis, Tenn.

Wednesday's speaker will be Herrell DeGraff, professor of land economics at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y. He will speak on "Efficient Production Versus Overproduction."

DeGraff was appointed professor of land economics at Cornell University in 1947.

LAW on the FARM

Tenants' Improvements on Rented Farms

This spring several thousand Illinois farm tenants will be moving from the farms they operated during 1953. According to the United States census, about one-fourth of all corn-belt tenants move annually. Questions will naturally arise about the rights of these departing tenants to crops they have seeded, limestone they have spread or repairs and improvements they may have added during their term.

If the parties have a written lease that covers the current lease year just ending, and if it contains any provisions or items such as the ones just mentioned, the lease will control. Also, if they signed a separate written agreement covering a specific item, or if they voluntarily agree on a settlement, no problem exists. However, in most cases there will be no written lease or separate agreement. Here is a summary of some important rules that apply when there is no written lease or agreement and when the parties cannot agree:

1. WINTER WHEAT or any fall-seeded grain is regarded as an "away-going crop" and may be matured and harvested by the tenant. Since a tenant has the right to return and harvest such a crop and take his share, he is usually able to sell his interest to the landlord or to the incoming tenant. This right would apply also to crops not harvested prior to the termination of the lease, provided weather or other natural conditions had made harvesting impossible and the tenant harvested them as soon as such conditions permitted after the expiration of the term. A tenant normally has this right to "away-going crops" and when he is not at fault but is required by his landlord to move.

2. Movable equipment and buildings or temparary fencing belonging to the tenant may be removed by him. On this point there is an Illinoi statute which states that "subject to the right of the landlord to distrain for rent, a tenant shall have the right to remove from the demised premises all removable fixtures erected hereon, or of any successive leasing of the premises, while he remains in possession in his character as tenant.

IT SHOULD BE noted that three conditions must be met before the tenant may enjoy the right accorded by this law: First, he must not owe the landlord back rent; otherwise the improvements may be distrained (held). Second, the improvements must be ones erected on the land by the tenant. Third, they must be removed before his term expires; otherwise he will not be on the land as a tenant and, according to the law, cannot remove them.

This law does not specifically cover the case of improvements brought by the tenant. However, the courts have indicated that the term "erected" includes improvements brought into the farm as well as those actually erected or built there. Also, this law has nothing to do with a tenant's right to remove his personal property—livestock, machinery, and equipment, for example.

3. GENERALLY, in the absence of specific agreement, tenants are not entitled to payment for repairs or improvement to the real estate, fall plowing, terracing, or the spreading of limestone and phosphate. Courts have quite generally adopted the view that only those things that are customary will be recognized in the absence of a written agreement, and that to permit varied claims on the part of a tenant would give rise to endless controversy.

Some countries, notably England, have "agricultural holding acts" that provide for appraisals at the end of a farmer's lease, payment being made to either landlord or tenant for any improvement or deterioration in the premises beyond that which would normally occur. Illinois has no such law.

American Farm Bureau At New Record High

Membership in the American farm bureau federation reached an all-time high of 1,591,777 farm families for the fiscal year 1953, it was announced at the meeting of the AFBF board of directors in Chicago Wednesday.

The Illinois agricultural association led the parade with a total all-time high membership of 200,015. This was the first state farm bureau in the federation to exceed the 200,000 mark.

The 1953 membership of the AFBF exceeded the 1952 membership by 99,495. This was a record increase for the past five-year period. Twenty-one states reached 100 per cent or more of their 1953 share of their two million member quotas.

The five high membership states for the year were: Illinois, 200,015; Iowa, 136,000; Indiana, 107,992; New York, 80,150; and Kentucky, 74,106.

Record Herd

Donald W. Johnson, of Bartlett, has recently had his herd of registered Holstein-Friesian dairy cattle classified for type (body conformation) under the official Type Classification program, conducted by The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, national organization of Holstein-Friesian cattle breeders.

Of 37 eligible animals in the herd now classified, 7 are designated "Very Good", 21 "Good Plus", and 9 "Good".

Lights, Ball, Fruit Juice Can, Ornaments Make Charming Tinsel Christmas Tree

The stylized tree above stands 32 inches high and measures 19 inches at its widest part.

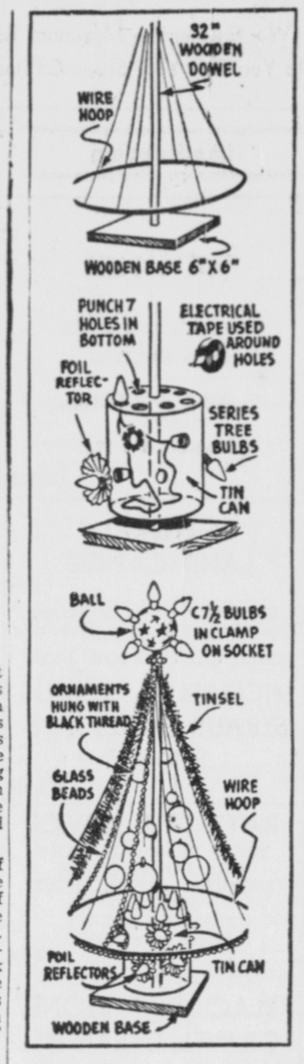

The "star" on the tree is a rubber ball which has been cut in half and had C-7½ bulbs placed in notches in the surface. Lamp cord was brought up from the base of the tree into the rubber ball. There, clamp-on type sockets hold the five "star" bulbs as shown in the drawing. The ball was held together with rubber cement and cellophane tape.

To make the tree, attach a 32 inch wooden dowel to a six-inch square wooden base as shown at the top of the drawing above. Next, turn the juice can upside down, punch seven holes in the bottom, line with electrical tape and insert one string of multiple tree lights and sockets. Also, make a hole in center of can for dowel to pass through. Then, make eight holes around the sides of the can, line with tape and position one string of series-type Christmas lights with foil reflectors. Now, place the "lighted" can over the dowel and rest on wooden platform.

Next, suspend the wire hoop (if you don't have a wire hoop, make one from several thicknesses of coat hangers) from the top of the tree with fine strands of wire. Hang various colored shiny ornaments inside the tree with black thread. These will reflect the bright images of the Christmas tree lights which protrude through the upper surface of the "tin-can" base.

Then, alternate strands of silver glass beads and gold tinsel from the top of the dowel to the wire hoop allowing just enough slack to create a graceful curve. Decorate the hoop with larger size blue glass beads and surround the "tree" with tiny candles made in the form of igloos and Eskimo children. You can, of course, use any tiny figures around the tree. Plug in the lights and your glowing tinsel tree is completed.

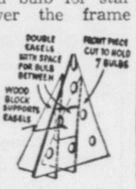

If you enjoy making your own holiday decorations, try these lighted paper trees designed by Miss Aileen Page, General Electric lighting specialist. These tiny trees which glow from Christmas lights hidden inside can be used on table, mantel or the top of your television set.

First, to make the opaque trees shown in the photograph above, protect the finish on your furniture with asbestos oven cover pads. Then, arrange two strings of multiple Christmas tree lights on the pad and cover with a thin sheet of non-inflammable sparkle-covered cotton. This will give the effect of luminous snow.

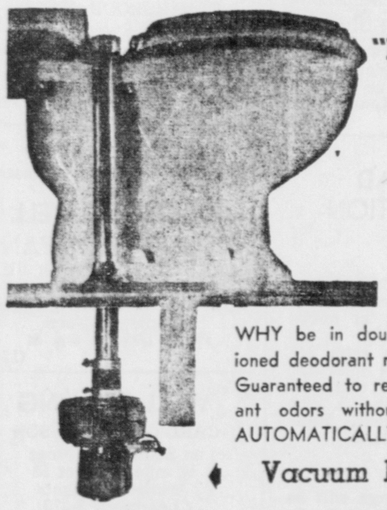

The large tree, 15 inches high, shown in the photograph above was made of metallic red paper, lined with tissue paper and cut a little larger than the frame of the tree. Tiny star shapes were carefully cut in the metallic paper to allow light from white Christmas tree lights concealed inside to shine through. Avoid cutting tissue paper lining since it conceals bulbs from view.

To make the frame for the tree, use quarter-inch plywood cut in the triangular shape of a tree. Support it with two wooden easels as shown in the drawing on the right. Then, drill six round holes to hold Christmas tree sockets and insert them in the frame. Use the seventh socket and bulb for star at top. Now, cover the frame with the metallic paper half-cone cover and secure it to the back of the frame. Finish off with a tiny star made of folded white bond paper or borrow a small star ornament from your collection of holiday trimmings.

Scatter various size smaller trees, made by folding a square piece of paper four times, cutting along folded edges, then refolding in pleated effect, over the luminous snow.

Electronics Replace Fire Alarm In Glenview

The old fashioned village fire bell has gone electronic in Glenview.

Members of the town's volunteer fire company are now alerted and dispatched through a $7,500 radio alarm system beamed to each fireman's home.

When a fire call hits the Glenview police station the operator there sets the system going. First it rings a bell in a monitor in each fireman's home.

Then as the firemen, carpenters, electricians, commuters and storekeepers in private life scramble out of bed, the monitors boom out the operators voice giving the location of the fire.

IN MEMORIAM

Tribute of love for Charles H. Meier, Glendale, California, who passed away December 15, 1952.
One year has passed since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away.
God took him home, it was His will
But in our hearts he liveth still.
We think of you always.
Loving wife and daughter Elsa

CARD OF THANKS

With deepest gratitude we extend this word of thanks for the many kind acts of sympathy expressed by thoughtful neighbors and friends. Also to Rev. Fedder and Mr. Oehler and staff. These kindnesses have meant much to us.

The white translucent tree pictured above is made over the same basic pattern as the opaque tree. The drawing at the left will show you how the plywood tree frame looks after wiring and before the half-cone cover is added. For the translucent cover, use oiled one-ply Strathmore paper which is available in most artist supply stores. Line the oiled paper with tissue paper. Then, paste on gummed paper stars and carefully cut a few entirely out of the oiled paper (don't cut tissue lining). Place tree on small cardboard box covered with sparkle-cotton. For a pretty holiday table use a dark green cloth. Tack glitter-covered snowflakes to the cloth and finish off with small varicolored tree ornaments.

Decoration For Holiday Doorway

The attractive holiday setting pictured above is a clever way to feature a little used indoor doorway or it can be adapted for one of your windows. The stars, bells and snowman figures are ready-made of white fiber glass. Mount the figures on a sheet of metallic paper, cut to your doorway or window size, then cut the metallic paper carefully around each figure and inset the figures so that they are flush with the background. Then, tape figures in place with cellophane adhesive tape. Now, hide a small 75-watt R-30 reflector spotlight (the bulb no larger than a good size orange) behind the paper scene and the light will give the figures a glowing effect.

Finish off with a "tree" of branches hung with tiny colored bells set on a bed of icicles which can be cut from a roll of cotton.

General Electric lighting specialists point out that the silhouette effect of the "tree" above is easy to achieve if you hide a string of white Christmas tree lamps behind the bowl in which greens are arranged.

When using this arrangement for a window, lighting experts suggest you fashion the window design just as for the indoor doorway except that the window must be lighted from outside. Use a weatherproof 150-watt projector flood bulb, fastened to a tree or placed in some other spot so that its light reaches the window area. Try experimenting with the outdoor bulb's position until the figures inside the window acquire the most glowing effect.

KAMERA KORNER

Taking pictures of the inside of your home at Christmas is filled with chances for variable results. Your own experience may be your best teacher. However, here are a few tips from Don Mohler, General Electric photographic lighting exp[illegible] which he himself follows in shooting pictures of his own Christmas tree.

First, use Tungsten-type color film indoors. Place camera on a tripod, aim it at the tree and give it an 8-second exposure at F-16. While the shutter is open, fire a flashbulb from off to one side. Get as close to the tree as you can without getting in the picture but no closer than five feet.

When Mr. Mohler shoots his own tree, he does it two different ways for markedly different effects. First, he turns on the tree lights and all of the lights in the room. The[illegible] he exposes anywhere from 60 to 120 seconds at F-16.

For black and white simply expose about ¼th as much as for color, about two stops less. To summarize the exposures in tabular form which you may want to paste in your camera case:

Home Christmas Tree:

Color	Black & White
½ sec. at F-4.5	2 sec. at F-16
8 sec. at F-16

Home Interior with all lights on:

Color	Black & White
60 sec. at F-16	60 sec. at F-32

At Carroll

Warren Dee, 707 South I-Oka, Mt. Prospect, had a role in one of the three one-act plays given at Carroll college Monday night, Dec. 14. The plays were directed entirely by advanced students in the dramatics department, while the casts were composed of freshmen who are trying out for the Carroll Players.

Dee had the role of the old man in Kenneth Goodman's "Dust of the Road," a Christmas play which deals with Judas Iscariot who is permitted to return to earth one day of the year. He attempts to persuade a Peter and Prudence Steele to "turn from perjury and theft on Christmas morning" and "save the joy of living in their hearts."

Dee, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dee, is a member of the choir and the madrigal chorus, Kappa Sigma Delta, honorary Christian society, and has a brother, Jack, also a sophomore at Carroll.

At Heidelberg

Betsy Larsen, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. F. N. Larsen of Mount Prospect is attending the University of Heidelberg, Heidelberg Germany. There she is studying German and French at the Dolmetscher Institute. At the end of two years she will receive a diploma for the interpreting of German.

Before going to Heidelberg she attended Northwestern University and was a member of Alpha Xi Delta social sorority.

At Oberlin

Richard J. Ross, junior at Oberlin college, department of arts and sciences, received his second varsity letter for football at an award dinner held November 24.

Ross, a chemistry major, is active in campus YMCA work and has won two letters in track. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ross of Palatine.

At Knox

Miss Erica Jung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erich H. Jung, 710 N. Ridge ave., was recently elected historian and publicity chairman of the Illinois Beta-Delta chapter of Pi Beta Phi at Knox college, Galesburg.

Pi Beta Phi, the oldest national women's fraternity, includes 50,000 members, with 257 alumnae clubs throughout this country, Hawaii, and Canada.

At Bowling Green

Among freshmen pledged to fraternities at Bowling Green State university, Bowling Green, Ohio, is Evan Paul Urhammer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Urhammer, 347 W. Wilson st., Palatine. He has been pledged to Sigma Chi fraternity.

At Colorado

Verne Busse of 900 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, senior at the University of Colorado, was recently initiated into Delta Sigma Pi, national business fraternity.

At New Mexico

Brooks Ambos Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Ambos of Palatine, has been elected vice president of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity. He has completed his assignment as pledge master, and will be chairman of projects for the fraternity next semester.

He attends the Universiy of New Mexico at Albuquerque.

At Carroll

Warren Dee, 707 S. I-Oka ave., Mt. Prospect, was recently initiated into membership with Kappa Sigma Delta, honorary Christian society at Carroll college, Waukesha, Wisconsin. The society is very active in campus religious life and sponsors several service projects.

Dee, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dee, is a sophomore at Carroll and a member of the choir and the Madrigals.

At Illinois College

Announcement has been made of the election of Miss Frances Zoll..er as vice president of the Illinois college association of women.

Miss Zollner a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zollner, R. 2, Box 278, Ellis av., Bensenville. She is an interested participant in the activities of her sorority, Gamma Delta, and is a member of the Hilltop Players, college drama group. Throughout all her activities she has maintained her standing as an honor student.

Miss Zollner is a graduate of Arlington Heights High School with the class of June 1952.

Downers Grove Asks Auto License Tax To Improve Local Streets

Commenting on the "deplorable condition" of some 48 village streets, commissioner of streets James Tennery asked the Downers Grove village council for passage of a municipal motor vehicle license tax.

The ordinance, which would bring the village an estimated $20,000 per year, will be acted upon by the council at next Monday night's meeting.

Under the proposed ordinance, funds derived from the license tax would be divided into two categories: an amount "not to exceed" 15 per cent would be used for "salaries and wages of police engaged in regulation of traffic," the remaining amount would be used for "improving, paving, repairing and maintaining streets and other public ways of the village."

In 1935 village voters went to the polls and killed a similar license tax.

Joyce Brumm Is Bride Of John Beckman

Baskets of white mums and ferns formed the setting November 21 for the marriage of Miss Joyce Alice Brumm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brumm of Wheeling, and John Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Beckman, Findlay, Ohio.

Rev. William McGill officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony held at the Community Presbyterian church of Wheeling. Mrs. Drinkwater sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" accompanied at the organ by Miss Grace Miller.

The bride wore a traditional ivory satin gown fashioned with a V-neckline edged with pearls. The gown ended in a long train. Her fingertip length veil was held in place by a beaded crown, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias with a white orchid center.

Miss Betty Jane Brumm served as her sister's maid of honor. Miss Miriam Beckman, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid. Miss Beverly Ehlenberg and Miss Judy Ann Brumm were the junior bridesmaids. All the attendants wore American Beauty velvet gowns and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Erick Wenzlaff was best man. Hans Schmidt and John Brumm were the ushers.

A reception for 150 guests was held immediately following the ceremony at the Amvet hall.

The couple honeymooned in Biloxi, Miss., and New Orleans, and are now making their home at 808 Deerfield rd., Deerfield.

Frank Runges Observe Sixtieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Runge, 940 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, will celebrate their sixtieth wedding anniversary December 22 at an open house from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. at their home.

They are extending an invitation to all their friends and relatives to visit them this day. Henry Sieburg Bestman, who attended their wedding, plans to attend the celebration.

Mrs. Runge was born February 8, 1868, and Mr. Runge was born May 3, 1869. They were both born in DuPage county, near Bensenville. They later moved to Cook county, where Mr. Runge engaged in farming near Mount Prospect. Mr. Runge, a farmer all his life, retired in 1921 and has lived at his present address in Arlington Heights since then.

The couple have four children, Richard of Arlington Heights, Otto of Mount Prospect, Amanda Harbecke of Bensenville and Barnie of Arlington Heights; four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

They plan to entertain their children and their families at a dinner December 20 in commemoration of their forthcoming anniversary. Also present at this dinner will be Mr. Runge's brother, George, and his wife of Bensenville, and Mrs. Runge's two brothers, Barnie and William Landmeier and their wives of Bensenville, as well as a sister, Miss Lida Runge of Elkhorn, Wis.

AAUW Yule Party Tonight

The December meeting of the northwest suburban branch of the American Association of University Women will be held December 17 at St. Martin church, Des Plaines.

All members who have joined during the past four months will be special guests at the affair which will feature singing of Christmas carols, with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Earl Relph, the traditional Christmas tree, and Santa Claus.

Santa Claus at this party will take the gifts, which are to be childrens books, to the children of the Mexican-American migrant workers who have stayed in this area during the winter.

These children are of special interest to the members of AAUW, as their particular project for the past five years has been a most successful summer school for these children whose schooling is interrupted by the nature of their parents' work.

Mrs. J. H. Halgren of Des Plaines is general chairman for the party and she is being assisted by Mrs. A. E. Poole, Mrs. R. E. Scott, Miss Joan Evans, Mrs. Thomas Troup and Mrs. R. M. Dunlap, all of Des Plaines. In charge of refreshments is Mrs. R. E. Chandler of Des Plaines and serving with her will be Mrs. Jack Melick and Mrs. Lee Gunter of Mount Prospect, Miss Katherine Thomas and Mrs. H. A. Cooper of Park Ridge, and Mrs. Morton Collins of Des Plaines.

Tickets On Sale For Symphony Concert

Tickets are now available for the concert to be given by the Northwest Symphony Orchestra at Maine township high school January 24.

They may be obtained from the orchestra members or from the following music schools or stores; Modern Music Shop, Maria Schaefer Piano and Record Shop, Words and Music, and Lyric School of Music, Dramatics, and Dancing, Des Plaines. Purchasers who find it convenient to order by mail may address the ticket chairman, T. H. Cuderkirk, 1630 River st., Des Plaines.

Junior Women Plan Holly Dance

To climax the Christmas holidays, the public is invited to attend the annual Holly dance sponsored by the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club.

Dancing will start at 9:30 p.m. December 26, and Mrs. Edward Crofoot, chairman of the affair, promises that the Mount Prospect Country club will be decked out in its best winter finery, complete with snowmen.

Admission to the dance will be $3.50 per couple, and tickets may be purchased in advance from club members or at the door the night of the dance. Dress is optional.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

Cranberries are a perennial favorite at holiday time, and today's recipe features this traditional berry in a delicious salad.

Festive in color, this salad is chuck full of good things. In addition to cranberries its ingredients include diced apple, banana, orange and pineapple, as well as chopped pecans, diced marshmallows and whipped cream.

It can be made in individual Christmas molds, such as trees or bells, to add extra gaity to your holiday table. A very special salad for a very special day!

Cranberry Marshmallow Salad

1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 medium-sized apple, peeled and diced
1 diced banana
1 cup diced orange
½ cup diced pineapple
½ cup chopped pecans
24 marshmallows, cut in eighths
½ cup cream, whipped
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
Pinch of salt

Simmer cranberries, sugar and water until all skins pop open and sauce is thickened, about 10 minutes. Chill.

Mix other ingredients and fold in whipped cream. Add to cranberry mixture. Chill again.

(P.S. Chilled evaporated milk can be used in place of whipped cream.)

Palatine Woman Wins First Prize In Garden Show

Mrs. Walter H. Kruse of Palatine was the recipient of a blue ribbon, first prize, for her entry in the flower show, "Christmas of Song and Story," which was given recently in the Palmer House, Chicago, by the Garden Club of Illinois.

Cottonwood branches afflicted by blight, black lupin seed pods, shelf fungus, a burned piece of log, all edged with a "snow" spray, were artistically arranged by Mrs. Kruse to depict the mood of a photograph of a bleak winter city street scene, very cold and stark. This picture, which was taken by Harry Shigeta, has taken prizes in photographic contests all over the United States.

Another requisition for the entrants in this interpretive class, was an explanation of the emotional effect the photograph had on the arranger. Mrs. Kruse expressed her feelings as follows: "And now the world, like the dying year, lies stark and still at the feet of nature, a vicious nature who gives no promise of a coming spring."

Members of garden clubs from the entire state of Illinois participated in this show. Mrs. Kruse is a member of the Plum Grove Garden club of Palatine.

Young Adults Mark Yule Season

The Young Adults club of Arlington Heights Methodist church will hold a box social December 19 at 7 p. m. in the church gym.

The box lunches for two prepared by the women and wrapped as Christmas gifts will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. Trimming the tree and singing carols will follow.

Announce Engagements

Jo Anne Falkanger

At a family party December 13 Mr. and Mrs. Norman Falkanger of Mount Prospect announced the engagement of their daughter, Jo Anna, to Robert Deiber, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Deiber of Arlington Heights.

Mr. Deiber, who recently returned from Korea, will be discharged from the navy in March.

ANDREA KENNEDY

A wedding March 6 is being planned by Miss Andrea Kennedy and Robin Warner Hobart. Their engagement is being announced here and in California by her parents, the Kenneth W. Kennedys of Arlington Heights.

Miss Kennedy attended Knox college, where she was a Pi Beta Phi, is a graduate of the Evanston hospital school of nursing, and is now on the staff of the Stanford university hospital in San Francisco. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. George W. Pope, S. Chestnut st., Arlington Heights.

Mr. Hobart, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Hobart of Kentfield, Calif., studied at the College of Marin, the University of California, served in the marine corps, and is now in business in San Francisco.

The young people revealed their plans to their California friends at a dinner party given by Mr. Hobart's sister at her home in Kentfield.

The prospective bride will arrive in Arlington Heights December 18 to spend the holidays with her parents.

Norman Busse Takes Patricia Collet As Bride

Miss Patricia Collet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Collet, 1510 Oakwood, Des Plaines, became the bride of Norman Busse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Busse, Arlington Heights, December 5.

Rev. Richard Maginat officiated at the 6:30 p. m. ceremony held at St. Mary's rectory, Des Plaines.

The bride wore a light grey suit and a corsage of carnations.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kolze, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a tan suit. Miss Mary Ann Collet, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid.

Edmund Busse, brother of the groom, was best man. Henry Townsend Jr. was the usher.

Dinner for the immediate families was served at the home of Dr. and Mrs. James Saffold following the ceremony. Seventy-five guests attended the dinner.

The couple honeymooned in the Ozarks and after January 1 will make their home at 24?2 South st., Rolling Meadows.

The couple are both employed at Des Plaines Motor Sales where he is a salesman and she, a bookkeeper.

The bride was honored at two showers previous to her marriage. The first was miscellaneous and the second, a linen shower.

Stonegate Group To Hold Party For Children

The Arlington Heights Stonegate Association Christmas party for children will be held December 20 at Mount Prospect community hall from 3 to 5 p.m.

Members of the association have received invitations, and 125 children have sent in their reservations.

Co-chairmen Ralph Lilleberg and Joseph Seminatore, who have been in charge of arrangements, report that Santa Claus expects to take time out to leave the gifts for each child at the party.

To Give 'Messiah' Sunday

MERCIE HEISE

The Town and Country chorus, under the direction of Lorraine Dean, will usher in the Christmas holidays with its presentation of Handel's "Messiah." The traditional Christmas oratorio will be given December 20 at 8:15 in Cutting hall, Palatine.

Featured in the concert will be accompanists Virginia Campbell, pianist, and Mercie Heise, organist. Mrs. Campbell has been the accompanist of the chorus since its founding a year ago. Miss Heise is organist at the Methodist church of Palatine and one of the outstanding musicians of the northwest area.

The "Messiah" concert will be the first public appearance of the Town and Country chorus in this, its second season. During its first season the chorus presented concerts and programs throughout the area and in Chicago.

Now a chorus of 50 voices, it has been augmented for this Christmas occasion by members of church and school choirs from other northwest suburbs.

The solo parts of the concert will be sung by Patricia Sauers, soprano; Margaret Dunlavey, contralto; Dr. Wayland Campbell, tenor; and Dale Gilbert, bass.

"This will be the first presentation of Handel's masterpiece in Palatine," said Mrs. Dean, "and it is hoped that the residents of the northwest area will help to make 'The Messiah' a traditional Christmas event."

Tickets for the performance are available at $1 each from members of the choirs.

Methodist Choir To Give 'The Messiah'

The Chancel choir of the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights will sing Handel's "Messiah" at the 10:45 a. m. worship service December 20.

The chorus is composed of 36 voices directed by F. C. Schmoyer. Richard Everett is the organist. Soloists are Shirley Bronwell, soprano; Marguerite Tuttle, alto: James Smith, tenor, and James Rickars, bass.

Newcomers Plan Yule Party For Youth

The Newcomers' club of Arlington Heights will hold its annual Christmas part for children December 19 from 2 to 3:30 p. m. at the field house.

Games, gifts and refreshments are planned. All children who attend are asked to bring a 25 cent grab bag gift.

Presenting The Younger Generation

First Grader

Blond-haired, blue-eyed Phyllis Christie, pictured first, attends first grade at the South school. This 6-year-old is the daugher of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Christie, 641 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights.

Phyllis also goes to Sunday school at the First Presbyterian church. Some of her favorite activities include riding her bicycle, sledding and coloring. She has a pet dog named Candy.

This young lady's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Burlingame and Mrs. Wanda Brooks, all of Chicago.

Young Cowboy

Playing cowboys is three-year-old Robert John Goebbert's favorite activity. And his favorite playmate is his uncle, John Meyn, who is only 7 years old.

Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goebbert, 29 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights. He has blond hair and blue eyes.

This young lad is impatiently waiting for Christmas, and is counting the days until Santa arrives. Bobby likes to play with his puzzles and to color and draw. He also enjoys riding his bicycle and tractor.

Grandparents of this youngster are Mr. and Mrs. John Meyn of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Goebbert of Des Plaines.

Smiling Lass

Pictured next is Betty Jane Severin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Severin, 430 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights. Blonde hair and blue eyes describe Betty Jane's coloring, and she is 3½ years old.

This young lady likes to play with her dolls and ride her tricycle. She also enjoys coloring, painting, drawing on her blackboard and playing with her puzzles.

And Betty Janes loves to play with her baby sister, Christine, who is 1 year old. She has an older sister, Winnie, who is 9.

Betty Jane attends Sunday school at Mount Prospect Lutheran school. Her grandmoher is Mrs. Elsie Severin of Cleveland, Ohio.

Another Cowboy

Another youngster who enjoys playing cowboys is Roger Stow, pictured last. This young fellow is 4½ years old, has blond hair and blue eyes. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kenneth Stow, 515 N. State rd., Arlington Hts.

Roger also likes to color and ride his bicycle. And he loves to play with his baby brother, Edward, who is 6 months old.

Roger attends Sunday school at the First Methodist church. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James R. Stow of Parkville, Md., and William F. Baltz of Baltimore, Md.

Joyce Bade, Kenneth Johnson Wed Recently

—Roberts Photo

In a double ring, candlelight ceremony November 29, Miss Joyce Ellen Bade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Bade, 1365 Walnut ave., Des Plaines, became the bride of Kenneth W. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Johnson, 1304 W. Vine st., Arlington Heights.

Rev. R. K. Wobbe officiated at the 6 o'clock ceremony held at Christ Evangelical and Reformed church, Des Plaines. Mrs. Benjamin Hageman accompanied James C. Bade, brother of the bride, who sang "Because" and "O Perfect Love." Palms and mums with white satin ribbons at each pew formed the floral setting for the wedding.

The bride wore a traditional white satin wedding gown fashioned with a scoop neckline trimmed with white tulle, seed pearls and sequins. Her illusion fingertip veil was held in place by a wide band of satin trimmed with seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white mums and calla lilies.

Mrs. Jack Garland, the matron of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of green irridescent taffeta fashioned with a tucked bodice. She carried a bouquet of bronze and yellow mums.

Miss Margery Kramer and Miss Janet Frey, cousin of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to that of the matron of honor and they carried bouquets of yellow mums.

Susan Cassel, the flower girl, wore a floor length gown similar to that worn by the other attendants, and she carried a basket of yellow and bronze mums. Edward Lauing was the ringbearer.

The bride's mother wore an afternoon dress of steel blue taffeta with pink accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress with navy accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink tea roses.

Gordon Winkelman, cousin of the bride, was the best man. Albert and Arthur Bade, twin brothers of the bride, and Walter and Marvin Johnson, brothers of the groom, were the ushers.

A reception followed by a buffet supper for 150 guests was held at the South park field house, Park Ridge.

The couple are now making their home in Forest Lake following a week's honeymoon.

The bride, a graduate of Maine township high school, is employed in the engineering department at Universal Oil Products Co., Des Plaines. The groom was graduated from Arlington Heights high school and is an employee of the Herzog Construction Co., Des Plaines. He served with the army in Korea for 17 months.

Three prenuptial showers in honor of the bride were given by Mrs. H. Ruckstaetter, Mrs. D. Gorlandy, Mrs. E. Mouth and Miss Janet Frey in Des Plaines, Mrs. S. Hildebrandt of Palatine, and her co-workers.

Sydney Mae Dion And Kenneth Gronert Wed

Immanuel Lutheran church, Oceanside, Calif., was the scene October 17 of the marriage of Miss Sydney Mae Dion, daughter of M-Sgt. and Mrs. Derrell Jenkins of Fort Lewis, Wash., and Kenneth R. Gronert, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Gronert of Arlington Heights.

Rev. R. Goesch officiated at the 7:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony. V. Bostwick sang "O Perfect Love." Baskets of white mums and gladioli formed the setting for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon net over satin trimmed with brilliants and pearls. Her nylon tulle fingertip length veil was held in place by a coronet headpiece.

Miss Sally Dion of Fort Lewis served as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a blue gown of nylon tulle over taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow spider mums.

Miss Betty McKee of Camp Pendleton, Calif., was the bridesmaid. She wore a pink gown of nylon tulle over taffeta, and she carried a bouquet of yellow spider mums.

Lee Buchanan of Indianapolis, Ind., was best man. James Goebbert of Arlington Heights was the usher.

A reception for 100 guests was held at The Green Hat, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The couple honeymooned at Lake Arrowhead, Calif.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandfather, George Dion Sr., Centralia, Wash.; the groom's mother, Mrs. William C. Gronert, Arlington Heights; Mrs. W. D. Jones, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Reed and daughter, Catherine, Redondo Beach, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fasel, Escondida, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Gronert, the groom's parents, entertained the newlyweds at a dinner for 115 guests at the activity building of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, November 7.

The couple will make their home with the groom's parents, 2012 E. Euclid ave., until they return to the University of Illinois in February to continue their studies.

Evening Book Club To Meet

The Evening Book club will meet December 21 at the home of Mrs. Charles Heiss, 315 W. Vine st., Arlington Heights, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. E. J. Harris will review the book, "Room At The Inn," by Clark McMeekin.

This is a Christmas story, reworking the old legend of the Christ child who enters the hearts of men.

Plan Yule Party

Santa Claus will be the important man at the Arlington Terrace Owners Association Christmas party! The party will be held December 20 at 2 p. m. in the North school auditorium.

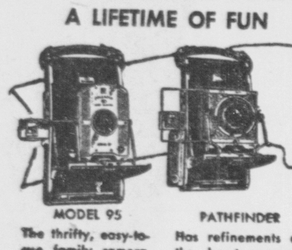

It's a party specially planned for all the children of Arlington Terrace but it will be a good time for their mothers and dads too! Santa Claus will be present and all residents of Arlington Terrace and their families are invited.

Name Chairmen For Red Cross Drive

Harold Meidell, chairman of the county communities division of the 1954 Red Cross fund campaign has appointed local chairmen for several northwest suburban communities to carry the Fund appeal to the people of their respective communities.

Mrs. Charles B. Edwards, 3rd and Franklin sts., will head the Red Cross drive in Bloomingdale, while Mrs. Arthur Benson, R.R. No. 1, Bartlett, will conduct the drive in Cloverdale.

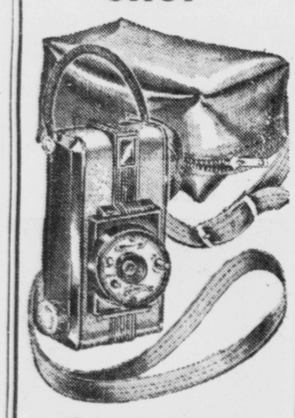

The fund campaign in Bartlett will be headed by Mrs. Fred Pierce, of Easton ave., in that village, and for Schaumburg, Mrs. Palmer Carlsen, R.R. No. 1, Roselle, will head the corps which will make the solicitations.

Meidell has named Mrs. W. D. Malcolm of Central ave., Wood Dale, as chairman for that community, and for Mt. Prospect, Cyrus Brunberg, 3 W. Prospect ave., and Carl Hammerl, 312 S. George st., as co-fund chairmen.

All chairmen named, except Brunberg and Hammerl served as fund chairmen in their respective communities last year, Meidell said.

The Chicago Chapter has a once-a-year campaign, said Meidell, to enroll members whose contributions make it possible for Red Cross to carry out its obligations to men and women of the armed forces, to hospitalized veterans, for disaster relief and rehabilitation, and for many humanitarian services in the Chicagoland area.

Form Association To Help Retarded Kids

Some children who will never be able to read this story got a boost last week when their parents completed organization of the countryside association for retarded children.

The new group will serve the north and west suburban areas. While the problems a mentally retarded child presents to his parents and to the community are well known to many, very little has been done for this forgotten group of children. The public schools are just taking their first halting steps in the field, and a definite program may be many years away. In the meantime, a great deal can be accomplished by this cooperative parents' organization, working together with other civic groups and friends.

To meet this social and educational problem a number of parents suggested a specialized school and in September, 1953, Mrs. Lotte Steinfeld established the Lake Zurich farm for children day school. This is the only facility in the area which provides a school for retarded children.

Sources of information are another problem to parents of a retarded child. The new group is holding monthly meetings, and will sponsor open forums at which physicians, psychiatrists and educators in this field will present the latest information on how to meet this problem. The Countryside association for retarded children has been accepted for membership in the Illinois council for mentally retarded children, and is setting up a non-profit corporation under the laws of Illinois.

Anyone interested in the problem will be welcomed, and membership inquiries are invited. Parents of retarded children, friends interested in this problem, as well as civic organizations, may feel free to phone any of the folowing for information: Palatine 550-R (Mrs. Gusewelle), Palatine 943 (Mrs. Smyth); Barrington 1674-J (Mrs. Naggatz), or the Lake Zurich Farm For Children, Lake Zurich 6171.

Mail requests should be addressed to Countryside Association For Retired Children, Box 161, Route 1, Barrington.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it really incorrect or improper to begin a letter with the pronoun "I"?

A. Not at all. What you say about yourself, of course, should be worth saying—that is, it should be interesting to your correspondent. Your friends want to hear about "I" and would not like your telling him nothing of yourself. Your business correspondent is not disturbed by an "I" letter either, if it contains such news as "I am enclosing a check," or, "I should like to place an order."

Q. How should a man and wife sign their personal Christmas cards, as "John and Mary Fulton"?

A. As "Mary and John Fulton."

Q. Is it proper to apply lipstick while at a restaurant table?

A. Yes, if you can do so quickly and inconspicuously.

Q. Is it necessary for a man to remove his glove if a woman offers to shake hands with him on the street?

A. This would probably involve a needless bit of tugging and scuffling on his part, and it is not at all necessary. He should offer his gloved hand without embarrassment and without apology.

Q. When a bride is writing notes of thanks for gifts to friends who do not know her husband, should the notes be signed with both names?

A. The signature should be her name only, but the note should say, "John and I deeply appreciate, etc."

Q. I've been told that "You're welcome" is out-of-date as an acknowledgment to "thank you." Is this correct?

A. Most certainly not.

Q. I have been going with a young man for several months. Is it all right for me to give him a Christmas present?

A. This would be quite all right. It would probably be better, though, to hold your present back until he has given you one. Should he not give you a present, it would be quite embarrassing if you were to hand him one.

Q. I have seen a number of men at dinners or in restaurants tuck one corner of their napkins under their belts to prevent the napkins from slipping to the floor. Is this in good taste?

A. No; this is just as improper as tucking the napkin into the collar.

Q. Is it proper for the mother of a newborn baby to mail a printed "Thank you" card for a gift sent?

A. No; the mother's thanks should be expressed in a sincere, personally-written note.

Q. Is it all right to serve one food two ways at the same meal—as orange juice and orange sherbet, or potato salad and mashed potatoes?

A. No.

Q. Is it all right to hold the fork in the hand at the dinner table while talking?

A. No; if one has entered a lengthy conversation, it is much better to lay the fork on the plate while talking. Of course, this does not mean that one must lay the fork down quickly for each "yes" or "no."

Feehanville School

At the regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher association to be held Friday at 7:30 p. m., the children of Feehanville school will present a pantomime playlet entitled, "Why The Chimes Rang." It is a story of a little boy whose small but sacrificial gift proves greater than that of a King's crown. There will be no business discussed at the meeting this month.

With the co-operation of the program committee and the teachers, Mrs. Hugh Cavett and Miss Rudd, the following cast was selected:

Old Man, Henry Van Dyke; Old Woman, Carla Haverkampf; Young Man, Bruce Murdock; Young Woman, Donna Jean Murphy; Boy, Donald Dobbratz; Girl, Vicki Williams; Old Woman in the Snow, Cathie Kirste; Rich Woman, Silvia Durso; Rich Man, Bobby Broberg; Laborers, Eric Flink and Chucky Van Dyne; Author, Dennis Buttner; Musician, Jerry Sullivan; Knight, Richard Kleinke; Artist, Richard Unger; Cobbler, Larry Bischoff.

Carolers, Donna Lee Barton, John Alexander, Andrea Jeane, Linda Leisure, John Goggin, Betty Messner, George Grossi, Darlene Hammette, Raymond Olson; Narrator, Mrs. Stanley Haverkampf; Pianist, Mrs. Harry Van Dyke.

At the end of the play, every child of the school will take part in the finale, singing "Joy to the World."

On Wednesday the children will be treated to a small party at the school, after which, school will be closed for the Christmas vacation until January 4.

Tommy Brookhouzen was pretty sick for almost a week, and Vaughn Campbell lost several days of school while suffering from the flu.

A future date to write on the calendar should be January 11, when the children should come to school prepared to have their pictures taken.

The Birthday club met for their Christmas Secret Pal revealing and Birthday party, at the home of Mrs. Evie Anderson last Thursday. Mrs. Anderson received many beautiful gifts, particularly some lovely china to add to her collection. There were a few riotous moments when each lady received her gift, accompanied by a card, bearing the name of the friend who had been so secretive all through the year. New Secret Pals were drawn for the coming year, and then all the members enjoyed a lovely repast served amidst a Christmassy table setting.

Friday, the Catholic women's Lady of Lourdes guild, had their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Rosemary Schmeltzer. The members spent part of the evening in saying the Rosary together as part of the world-wide peace movement. A short time later they played a few games, and then, while refreshments were being sserved, drew a gaily wrapped gift, which the members each provided, from the grab bag.

Preparations are in the final stages for the Christmas party which is to be held Sunday at 4:30 p. m. Santa will be there for the little ones to confide in, and receive a gift. There is to be a few hours of entertainment and then refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Beatrice Kramer, accompanied by Miss Delores Villadon, will render two favorite Christmas carols. A tableau depicting the Birth of Christ will be played by Sharon Anderson as Mary, Charles Badalamenti as Joseph and Richard Kozel, Ronnie and Joey Cambrun the Three Wise Men. Jackie Sim will be remembered for the entertainment she provided at last year's party, when she does her tap-dance routine. The Girl Scouts willl give their version of the children's favorite Christmas story "The Night Before Christmas." Elaine Hanson, Judy Olson and Chuckie Kozel will give a rendition of "Silent Night," followed by a solo on their accordions.

We sincerely hope every parent will set aside this particular afternoon, and bring the youngsters to the Community house, as it is entirely for their benefit that the interested people who gave a great deal of time and effort to make it a memorable party.

More than thirty people were guests at a birthday party given in their honor, when Vito and Vincent Badalamenti, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Badalamenti, reached the ripe old age of one year. The relatives showered the boys with many beautiful gifts and birthday wishes. The Raw family formerly occupied the home which the Badalamentis are learning to love, and a recent card from Delma says that she is enjoying the still beautiful weather in Mississippi and that the flowers are still in bloom.

Since this is to be a terrifically busy week coming up, all I can say is "Take it easy, folks, and enjoy a little of the holiday season."

Bye now,
Mrs. Rita Badalamenti

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Jevne and sons, David and Ricky, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Robb and son, Tommy, were Sunday dinner guests at the Gene Hoffs, LaGrange.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mueller visited her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Armando Spada, Chicago, Saturday evening.

The Stanton Petrys attended a formal dance Saturday evening at the Cotillion club in Evanston.

Mrs. Carl Graves Sr., Roland and Juanita, went shopping at Park Forest and visited relatives in Chicago Heights Monday. Because of Teachers' Institute day there was no school.

Birthday Congratulations

A sweet sixteen birthday party was given for Miss Darlene Fowler by her mother Wednesday, December 9. Mr. and Mrs. George Callaan, Jean and Mary, Mrs. George Mailfold, Butch and Harry Mikelson attended.

Welcome Neighbor

A hearty welcome is extended to Mrs. Marion Kanwischer and children, Kenneth, Lois and Donald, who moved into their new home on S. State Satuurday. Donald will be attending St. Peter's Lutheran school in town. Mrs. Kanwischer and family were former residents of Franklin Park.

Welcome to our vicinity Mr. and Mrs. William Klatt and children, Betty and Billy, from Chicago. They moved into the former home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gappert on Lincoln ave.

Board of Directors will hold its monthly meeting at the school Monday, at 8 p .m. All interested persons are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Weber and Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Prasnikar attended the Arlington Country club dance Saturday evening.

Elk Grove Home Bureau

Elk Grove Home Bureau Unit will meet for their Christmas party and meeting at the home of Mrs. Herbert Sietmann, Higgins rd.

The November meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Busse, Mount Prospect. Cohostesses were Mrs. Edward Linneman, Mrs. Milmer Mahler and Mrs. Hammerl. The major lesson on "Rights of the Individual Around the World" was given by Mrs. Claradehl Upham, home adviser.

Wheeling Realty Assessment Jumps Three Million

The mushrooming growth of suburban Cook county communities is mirrored in 1953 real estate assessment valuation for country townships, according to figures announced today by Assessor John S. Clark.

Wheeling township ranked in the upper half of the thirty country townships outside Chicago, in advancing valuations. The new evaluation places the total at $35,933,923 as compared with the Assessor's final value for 1952 which was $32,689,687, representing an increase of $3,244,236.

There were 1598 permits for 1953 reported to the Assessor's office from Wheeling township. Not all of these have contributed to the increase, since churches and schools are tax exempt and a part of the total issued covers some incomplete structures which were not effective for 1953 assessment, but will be assessed for 1954.

The volume of construction has continued without apparent let-up Assessor Clark explained, and building permits already reported to his office for next year's assessment point toward another peak assessment year in 1954.

1952 AND 1953 COMPARATIVE REAL ESTATE ASSESSMENTS

TOWN	1952 FINAL	1953 FINAL	INCREASE
Barrington	$ 9,435,302	$ 9,772,122	$ 336,820
Elk Grove	12,429,598	13,235,372	805,774
Hanover	5,890,684	6,139,310	248,626
Northfield	38,440,593	41,200,957	2,760,364
Palatine	15,687,665	16,627,172	939,507
Schaumburg	3,547,742	3,611,446	63,704
Wheeling	32,689,687	35,933,923	3,244,236

ELK GROVE TWP.

Elk Grove township kept pace, proportionately, with the leaders in advancing valuations, in the 30 country towns outside Chicago. The major part of the increased real estate wealth of the township is ascribed to building of homes in the southern part of Mount Prospect.

The new evaluation places the total at $13,235,372 as compared with the Assessor's final value for 1952 which was $12,429,598, representing an increase of $805,774.

There were 425 permits for 1953 reported to the Assessor's office from Elk Grove township. Not all of these have contributed to the increase, since churches and schools are tax exempt and a part of the total issued covers some incomplete structures which were not effective for 1953 assessment, but will be assessed for 1954.

NORTHFIELD TWP.

Northfield township was grouped with the top ten townships in advancing valuations, ranking tenth among the 30 townships outside Chicago. The new evaluation places the total at $41,200,957 as compared with the Assessor's final value for 1952 which was $38,440,593, representing an increase of $2,760,364.

There were 1193 permits for 1953 reported to the Assessor's office from Northfield township. Not all of these have contributed to the increase, since churches and schools are tax exempt and a part of the total issued covers some incomplete structures which were not effective for 1953 assessment, but will be assessed for 1954.

PALATINE TWP.

Palatine township kept pace with the trend of advancing values in the 30 country towns outside Chicago, due to a continuing expansion of residential building.

The new evaluation places the total at $16,627,172 as compared with the Assessor's final value for 1952 which was $15,687,665, representing an increase of $939,507.

There were 649 permits for 1953 reported to the Assessor's office from Palatine township. Not all of these have contributed to the increase, since churches and schools are tax exempt and a part of the total issued covers some incomplete structures which were not effective for 1953 assessment, but will be assessed for 1954.

SCHAUMBURG TWP.

Schaumburg township made its contribution to the upward trend of advancing values. The increase was proportionately small inasmuch as this farming township does not contain the incorporated areas found in all other townships. This year's increase is due to residential building along the highways and at crossroads, with very little farm-building construction.

The new evaluation places the total at $3,611,446 as compared with the Assessor's final value for 1952 which was $3,547,742, representing an increase of $63,704.

There were 49 permits for 1953 reported to the Assessor's office from Schaumburg township. Not all of these have contributed to the increase, since churches and schools are tax exempt and a part of the total issued covers some incomplete structures which were not effective for 1953 assessment, but will be assessed for 1954.

HANOVER TWP.

Hanover township contributed its share to the general trend of advancing valuations. The increase proportionately was not as great as in some townships lying closer to Chicago, where many large subdivisions helped boost the total.

The new evaluation places the total at $6,139,310 as compared with the Assessor's final value for 1952 which was $5,890,684, representing an increase of $248,626.

There were 176 permits for 1953 reported to the Assessor's office from Hanover township. Not all of these have contributed to the increase, since churches and schools are tax exempt and a part of the total issued covers some incomplete structures which were not effective for 1953 assessment, but will be assessed for 1954.

The high economic levels maintained in recent years, and the ready availability of mortgage loans through banks and building and loan associations have contributed to individual home-ownership. In addition, an increasingly important factor in the development of Cook county, according to Clark's views, is the improvement of older roads and the construction of new roads.

"More and better roads are amplifying the meaning of transportation time in the real estate valuation equation," the Assessor observed "and are steadily producing building volume in the outlying areas of Cook county."

Sewer and Water Ready For Westgate Residents

Under the direction of the village engineers, the underground work in Arlington Heights' Westgate subdivision, adjoining Wilke road, was being rushed during the good weather. A thirty-inch sewer tile has been laid along Campbell street and water and sewer laterals have been installed, the cost of which is provided for from over $100,000 placed in escrow by the developers.

Three of the new homes are being occupied and a total of 65 homes are under construction. Twenty of them have been sold. It is expected that the development will be extended south of Campbell street next year and in which land will be dedicated for a future school house.

Arlington Lions Honor 15 Past Presidents

Arlington Heights Lions Club honored 15 of its living past presidents Tuesday evening, presenting to each of them a plaque. Chevrons were also presented to those who have been members of the club ten years or more.

Presentations of the plaques were made by President Ford and the chevrons by District Governor Day of Des Plaines. As the older past presidents responded, present day members had "whiffs" of the way-back-when days when the club was struggling for its existence and there was only a handful of members, especially during the depression days.

Past President Sesterhenn had the honor of presenting to St. Peter congregation a public address system which has been installed with speakers in both the dining room and assembly hall above. The gift was accepted by Alfred Beigel in behalf of the congregation, by Wilbert Kastning, in behalf of Christian Day, School, and Rev. Stephan, who recently became a Lion, and as he said, has learned to sing the Lions songs in person which he formerly heard through the basement window of the old hall.

Arlington Heights Lions have been served by the Dorcas Aid the entire 28 years of its existence. As a further token of appreciation for the thousands of meals that they have provided for the club, a Christmas check was presented to Mrs. George Schimming, dinner chairman, and Mrs. Herman Schwolow, president of Dorcas Aid.

All except two past presidents were present to receive their plaques. Their reminisences recalled to the minds of the older members when the Lions really roared at meetings, also the playtime that enlivened the introduction of new members. Virgil Horath said the night of his initiation there was a live goat tied to the handle of the entrance door.

Honorary members of the club are Dr. E. A. Elfeld and Herman Roland to whom plaques were also presented.

Living past presidents and the years they served are:

J. D. Flentie (1929-30); H. G. Dunn (1932-33); A. R. Jasper (1933-35); H. J. Thal (1937-39); W. F. Karstens (1939-41); C. H. Ewert (1941-43); V. K. Horath (1943-45); O. R. Cline (1945-46). J. F. Randag (1946-47); O. H. Wulbecker (1947-48); C. W. Lussman (1948-49); F. E. Burns (1949-50); J. D. Bryson (1950-51); E. R. Schmidt (1951-52); F. P. Sesterhenn (1952-53).

Reminders Sent Out

"Lest you forget," the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county is sending out reminders to Chicago and suburban residents to buy and use Christmas seals during the holiday season.

Christmas seals are the sole support for the institute's program of TB, prevention and control on a local basis. In cooperation with the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium and the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium district, the TB institute searches for unknown cases of TB in communities, schools and industries throughout the year by chest x-raying. It is estimated that by the end of 1953, over 650,000 persons will have been x-rayed in Chicago and Cook county.

Christmas Lighting Sets Mood For Your Holiday Entertaining

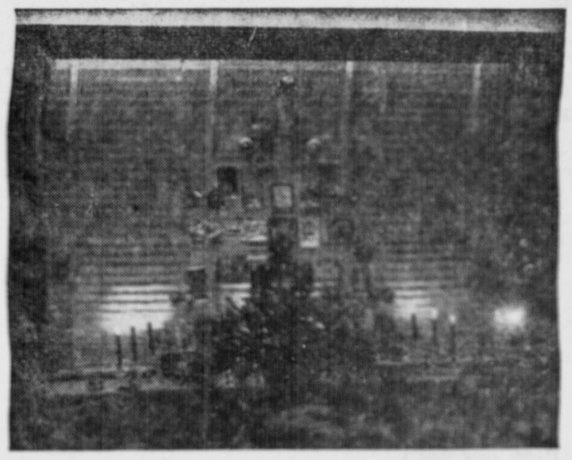

If you plan your Christmas lighting around the furnishings in your living room it can provide all the lighting you need for holiday entertaining.

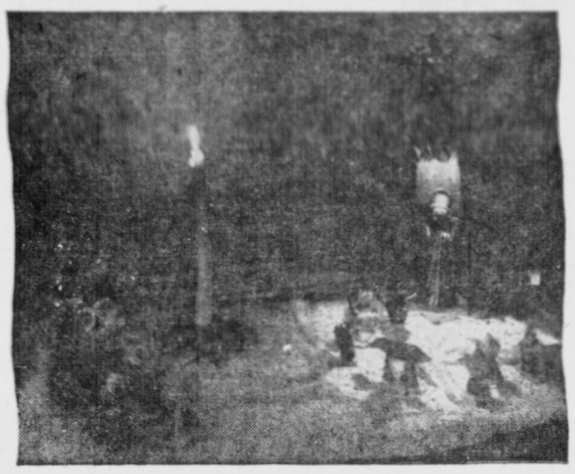

To give you an idea of how to spread your Christmas lighting around your room, study the pictures above. These three settings designed by Miss Mary Webber, General Electric lighting specialist, for use in her own living room 140 square feet, provided an attractive atmosphere for holiday entertaining.

First step in lighting the room above was to create a dramatic pola of interest on the large window shown in the top left photograph above. A miniature tree was made with short balsam cinating reflections on the mirror-branches arranged in a large size bread pan covered with gold paper. The pan was stuffed tightly with chicken wire to hold the branches in place.

To silhouette the miniature tree and to give interesting color patches of light on the blind, a narrow cardboard box, cut to the length and height of the pan was placed directly behind it. Holes were cut in the top of the cardboard box to hold sockets of a Christmas tree string of multiple lights in an upright position. A secondary "tree" fashioned from Christmas cards and shiny ornaments was created on the blind itself.

The lighted valance, together with twinkling candles, creates fas-like ornaments. If your valance is not lighted or, if your window does not have one, you can use two or three strings of Christmas lights entwined in greens above your window.

Across the room, as shown in the lower photograph below, another lighted arrangement highlights the top of the television set. All parts of the decoration are inexpensive "store items." However, to give dimension, depth and glow, the large angel ornament was lighted. The top of the ornament was pried up enough to insert a wired intermediate socket a tiny clear S-11 10-watt bulb. The cord was taped tight to the back of the ornament and carried under the non-inflammable, sparkle-dotted cotton, down to a convenience outlet.

To complete the holiday lighting in the room, shiny green foil paper was taped to the back of the secretary as shown in the picture at the right above. For light and sparkle, a 25-watt tubular (T-6½) bulb, fastened in the top left-hand front corner of the secretary where it remains year 'round, highlights the delicate gold angel and arrangement of greens. Another arrangement used year 'round as well as during the holidays is the simple reflector on top of the bookcase. Only 18½ inches long and painted to match the wall the reflector conceals a long 60-watt lumiline lamp for subtle lighting effects on wall and ceiling.

K. Of C. Xmas Party Friday In Des Plaines

Knights of Columbus, Father Linden council, will hold their annual Christmas party Friday Dec. 18, at the VFW hall in Des Plaines.

All members of the council their wives and children are invited to be the guests of Santa Claus who will be master of ceremonies. The party will start at 8 p. m.

The program will include instrumental music, community singing and amateur contests for boys and girls.

The event will be topped off with a grab-bag drawing for the youngsters and refreshments for adults.

CHRISTMAS

I have always thought of Christmas time as a good time; a kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time; the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely.

Lessons In .... English

by W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "Jackson is going to stop in St. Louis for a few days." Say, "is going to stay in St. Louis for a few days."

Avoid the senseless phrase, "Every so often." Instead, say, "Often, now and then, occasionally, frequently, or sometimes."

Do not say, "You are more worthy than him." Say, "than he."

Do not say, "We don't propose to interfere." Say, "We don't intend to interfere."

Do not say, "Outside of a cold, he is all right." Say, "Aside from a cold, he is all right."

"Damage," when used to mean the price or the cost of something, is slang. It is properly used only with reference to injury or harm done to a person or estate.

Words Often Mispronounced

Papier-mache. Pronounce pa-per-ma-sha, first and last a's as in pay, second a as in ah unstressed, accent first and last syllables.

Gangrenous. Pronounce gan-gre-nus, with accent on first syllable, not the second.

Abattoir. Pronounce ab-a-twar, first and second a's as in at, third a as in war, principal accent on last syllable.

Mirage. Pronounce mi-razh, i as in it, a as in ah, accent second syllable.

Mien. Pronounce the same as "mean."

Opine. Pronounce as spelled, o-pine, with accent on second syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Annex, two n's; anecdote, one n. Bale (a bundle); bail (security). Credible (capable of being believed); creditable (deserving of praise). Prefix, one f; suffix, two f's. Occult, two c's; oculist, one c. Prophet (one who foretells events); profit (gain).

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Dogmatize; to speak or write positive assertions without adducing proof. "It is useless to dogmatize about things which have never been proved."

Dilemma; a vexatious predicament; difficult choice or position. "My errors of judgment have placed me in a dilemma."

Mercenary; actuated by (usually sordid or self-seeking) considerations or profit or reward. "The girl's parents were hoping for a mercenary marriage."

Conjectural; pertaining to a surmise or guess. "It was a mere conjectural opinion."

Husband (verb); to direct and manage with frugality. "He husbanded his resources to the very best of his ability."
